Trains

YOU get a queer tingle when crossing a railroad track. Instinct warns of danger, cautions you to look both ways. Rarely any danger if you obey that impulse and exercise caution.

So far this year, more than 1000 persons have been killed at grade crossings by trains in Illinois. Much agitation there, to eliminate grade crossings. Good idea.

But there should be, also, agitation against individual recklessness. Direct this agitation against folks who walk about in a trance and cross railroad tracks without looking both ways. Also, motorists who race locomotives to the crossing.

The train never runs off the track and hit you. The danger zone is only few feet wide. Keep your eyes open and live longer.

Plans

GERMANS built their railroads with tracks closer together than any other country. Then they used off the ties, close to the rails, so a possible invader could not in his broader-gauge trains without laying new ties instead of just using one rail.

Germans were confident of military success. But they also provided for possible failure. Confident becoming a success, you are tempted to take chances. Play safe, provide for possible failure by keeping a nest-egg salted away.

Agenda

APAN must be satisfied about the "agenda" at the peace conference. Many, seeing the word in it, wonder if it's a drink.

"Agenda" is the plural of "agenda," which means a program or schedule. Japan, inquiring about it, simply wants to know what questions will be discussed at the conference.

An old word. Few except diplomats and lawyers ever used it. Now, it is used for years. It jumps to the dictionary and sails off to general usage.

Fatty

ATTY ARBUCKLE has lost 41 pounds since his arrest. He has dropped from 266 pounds to 225. Lies, if you want to reduce, get nothing to worry about. Contentment and peace of mind bring fat. Fatty takes it away faster than diet or gymnasium work.

But is the body's reserve bin of plus fuel. The brain, racing with it, burns more fuel.

Duke

IVORCE is sought by Mrs. Cordelia Biddle Duke. But that isn't become interesting news. It is learned that her husband, her son of Ben Duke, millionaire race man.

People are interesting in proportion to their prominence, their conditions and what they do. Your Duke are bigger than yourself. Usually, for man is a creator, and it you do is your real self.

Senseless

OMINENT men seem to delight in chopping down trees for exercise. They destroy, in a few minutes, what took nature many years to create.

His is vandalism, as much as using houses, crippling machinery, destroying food.

rees, racing toward extinction, due to society. They are living, with as much right as dumb animals. Destroying them wantonly is far removed from dog bents.

estroyers will be so measured by generations, hampered by a per and shade famine and curses for our senseless destruction.

Windfall

ANCE shakes its dice at least once for each of you. Thousands, poor and without prospects, will be enriched by chance.

B. Bissonette, farmer near St. Manitoba, Canada, was chopped when a swarm of bees fed in a nearby tree. He hastily ed a soapbox into a hive. The stayed. In six years they have piled until Bissonette sits back lets the bees earn his living for him. He has just marketed 20 tons of honey.

is chance a similar windfall in for you?

Back

RING the war, dangers to navigation in the Atlantic shifted with our imports and exports and Pacific ports.

ow the trade currents of the have gone back to normal and the ports have their old-time of foreign trade.

other decade will show a similar ment all thru society and its zation. Gradually the war will into history and the world will head in the old 1913 paths.

TRADE PROBER IS CALLED CRAZY

Report on Utah Concern Too Optimistic for Bankers.

BUSINESS IS COMING BACK

Spillane Finds Conditions Promising at Salt Lake City.

(BY RICHARD SPILLANE)
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 23.—Heber J. Grant, president of the Church of Latter Day Saints and Chairman of the board of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company, was one of about 30 gentlemen prominent in industrial, commercial and financial affairs in Utah who met your correspondent at the chamber of commerce. Among the others were: H. M. Chamberlain, vice president Walkers Bros. bank; W. M. Armstrong, National Copper bank; L. B. Hampton, local manager Crane company of Chicago; F. A. Pyke, president Pyke Druhl Dry Goods company; F. C. Schramm, president Schramm Johnson Drug company; Arthur Sweet, Sweet Candy company; J. W. Collins, vice president Tracy Loan and Trust company; N. F. Dicke, manager Utah Light and Traction company; M. Rosenblatt, Utah Steel corporation; Merrill Nibley, vice president Utah-Idaho Sugar company; Ross Beeson, Beeson Bond and Investment company; H. N. Byrne, director Keith Owen Dry Goods; B. F. Redman, president Redman Storage company; W. S. McCarty, Salt Lake Hardware company; H. A. Schweikhart, Salt Lake Hardware company; J. Edward Taylor, president Utah State Farm Bureau; F. C. Richmond, president Richmond Machinery company; G. N. Child, superintendent Public Schools; D. A. Grey, Oregon Short Line; H. G. Goodwin, Oregon Short Line.

The Mormon church plays a considerable part in Utah's business life. Its holdings in the Utah-Idaho Sugar company are said to be 90 per cent of the total. This company is the largest manufacturing concern in the state. It is said to have 1,234,843 tons of beets last year and turned out 162,538 tons of sugar. The church has various other activities including the Zion Co-operative mercantile institution, an overall factory, a boot and shoe plant and a savings bank. President Grant said the bank had larger deposits than ever before.

Not a banker but a financial director was sent here to look into the company's affairs. This investigator's report and predictions as to the company were so optimistic that the bankers said he was crazy. The company got aid from a great insurance company, and incidentally, more than fulfilled the prophecy of the investigator.

Chamberlain said the city banks had been carrying quite a load for the country banks but some of these loans were now being liquidated from the sales of wheat, wool and other products. Business in general was fairly good and the prospects very good.

RUSSIA RELEASES INDUSTRIES

Abolished Capitalist Machinery to be Reinstalled.

NATION NEARS DEMOCRACY

Fall of Bolshevik Regime by Christmas Predicted.

(BY EDWIN HULLINGER)
MOSCOW — (United Press) — "The Soviet government has decided to return to private capital all industry through Russia, save four — railways, and metallurgical, textile and fuel sources," M. Kameneff, head of the Moscow soviet and member of the Bolshevik cabinet, declared in an exclusive interview with the United Press today.

The complete scope of the soviet's new economic policy was revealed by Kameneff, who declared Russia is on the eve of a reorganization of a most sweeping character which will include installation of a large part of the capitalist machinery abolished in the revolutions of 1917.

PRIVATE BANKING
Kameneff, who was formerly Russian trade representative in London and is now one of the real powers of the Bolshevik government, told in simple English the story of Russia's realization that communism could not be attained at a single bound and of the determination of the present government to completely reorganize Russia's national and industrial life and to make way for capitalism.

Private banking is to be restored in Russia, but on a cooperative basis," Kameneff said. "The National Bank of Russia will open within a few days, with a charter identical with that of the Bank of France. It will resemble the national banks of the United States."

CONCESSIONS OFFERED
The Bolsheviks are ready, the cabinet minister declared, to grant concessions to American and other foreign capitalists for the exploitation of national resources of Russia, such as coal, wood and oil. They are prepared to discuss with foreigners whose property was confiscated in 1917 the question of indemnity.

The new policy of the soviet, Kameneff said, meant that the government was maintaining the title of land and buildings and leasing property to private firms, the same as an ordinary landlord.

"All restrictions upon private commercial and industrial activity will be removed forthwith," Kameneff said. "We would never have gone to such extremes if it had not been that war conditions and the civil and foreign compelled iron measures to preserve the soviet's existence."

CALA CONVICTED OF KABER MURDER

Jury's Verdict, However, Carries Mercy Recommendation

BENIGNO CASE NEARS END

Points Argued in the McGannon Contempt Trial.

CLEVELAND — (By Associated Press) — Salvatore Cala, confessed slayer of Daniel Kaber, wealthy publisher in his Lakewood home two years ago, was found guilty of first degree murder, with a recommendation of mercy by a jury in common pleas court this morning. Judge Dan B. O'Neil sentenced him to life imprisonment.

Following his capture near Buffalo, N. Y., several months ago, Cala confessed to participating in slaying Kaber to death.

Cala is the second person placed on trial for Kaber's murder, Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, widow of the slain man, having been found guilty of first degree murder and sentenced to life imprisonment.

CLEVELAND — (By Associated Press) — The case of Dominick Benigno, charged with the first degree murder of W. C. Sly in a parlor holdup here last December will be in the hands of the jury this afternoon.

Closing arguments of counsel for the defense and the state began with the opening of court today.

McGANNON CASE
CLEVELAND — (By Associated Press) — Efforts to prove Miss Mary Neely, principal witness for the state in the McGannon murder trial, perjured herself at the first trial, and that consequently former Judge W. H. McGannon and A. A. Cartwright, his junior counsel committed no offense in endeavoring to have her change her testimony in the second trial, were being made today by defense attorneys in the McGannon contempt of court trial being heard before Judge R. H. Day of Canton.

The state rested its case last yesterday. Immediately counsel for Cartwright moved that the case against his client be dismissed, claiming that, even had Cartwright known of efforts to change Miss Neely's testimony, his tips were sealed because of the sacredness of relations between client and attorney. The motion was overruled. Judge Day declaring that there was not sufficient evidence of a conspiracy to warrant dismissal of Cartwright.

FRANCE BEGINS PROBE OF EXPLOSION IN GERMANY

PARIS — French government chemists have begun an investigation at Oppau, Germany, where several hundred persons were killed by an explosion on Wednesday morning, to determine whether secret war stores and munitions had been clandestinely manufactured there, says a Mayence despatch to the Journal.

Their industry has shown the explosion was due to the spontaneous decomposition of a new product — nitro sulphate of ammonia — from which wonders are expected as a fertilizing agent.

The manufacture of this salt has been going on in the plant of the Badische Anilin company at Oppau for the past five months, and considerable stocks of it had accumulated. It is declared by the despatch that this practice "appears to have been grossly imprudent" as ammonia compounds are most unstable and the properties of the new preparation are thus far poorly defined.

MRS. DERR HELD FOR MURDER

Charge Is Entered Following Akron Woman's Confession

ADMITS KILLING HUSBAND

Caused by Attention to Other Women, She Says.

AKRON — (By Associated Press) — Mrs. Minnie L. Derr, 42, was in People's hospital today suffering from a nervous collapse following her sensational confession last night to the throwing of acid into the face of her husband, Alvin R. Derr, Akron business man, who died from inhaling the poisonous fumes.

A charge of murder was entered against her on the police court docket and Prosecutor A. W. Doyle today was preparing for her arraignment as soon as doctors permitted her to be taken from the hospital.

WOMAN BREAKS DOWN
Mrs. Derr, arrested in her room at home following funeral services over her husband's body yesterday afternoon, broke down under questioning last night and shrieked, "yes, I threw it."

"Oh, God—I didn't mean to kill him. I didn't want to kill him," she moaned and then fell in a faint on the floor.

In an adjoining room her four children heard the screams which marked the confession. Three of them had refused to believe their mother was guilty. The fourth, Harry, age 20 years, smiled grimly.

"Don't blame my mother for cutting the telephone wires and locking the door of my room," he told officers following the confession. "I did that. But I never would have told, no matter how much I might have been tortured."

A home made unhappy thru her husband's attention to other women was the cause for her act, Mrs. Derr confessed.

"We had quarreled after we returned home last Saturday night," she added. "I did not sleep the rest of the night."

The acid was thrown upon Derr as he slept early Sunday morning.

Mrs. Derr had been suspected from the first, despite her efforts to make it look as tho tho acid had been thrown by an intruder. Her story of her son locked in his room, the telephone wires cut and the intruder hiding in the house from evening until the early hours of the morning, did not agree with the findings of police investigators. Her attempt to make police believe she had been a mark for the acid thrower failed when it was found the marks on the pillows did not agree with her story.

SISSONS, CONVICTED OF THEFT, TO FILE APPEAL NEXT MONDAY

Don and Ollie Sisson were found guilty of theft of automobile parts by a jury before Judge Jackson in criminal court late Thursday. Sentence will be pronounced Monday, at which time the attorney for the defense will file an appeal, it is announced.

The Sissons, husband and wife, were charged with looting a car owned by Gar Risher, an onion grower. Risher wrecked his car seven miles east of Lima, on the Marion road and left it.

Police officers and Sheriff Baxter, concealed near the wreck, trapped Sisson and his wife. They were accompanied by a boy named Smith who has since been convicted in juvenile court. One wheel, a coil box, glass lenses and a tube had been removed from the car when the arrest was made.

The jury made its decision in less than 20 minutes. Its personnel consisted of: C. C. Frisby, O. F. Bliss, J. C. Boles, C. L. Bradley, Clayton Donze, H. H. Delong, D. R. Carpenter, C. C. Bauer, S. S. Fishel, George Sowers, Thomas McGinnis, O. G. O'Dell.

ARBuckle AGAIN BEFORE COURT

Degree of Crime Expected to be Determined Today.

DEFENSE MUM AT HEARING

Witnesses Are Not Questioned by Actor's Attorneys

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. — (By Associated Press) — The spotlight of testimony again today turned toward the tragedy of Virginia Rappe, film actress, to determine whether Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, film comedian, will be tried on the charge of murder or on the charge of manslaughter in connection with the girl's death. It is charged Miss Rappe suffered fatal injury from Arbuckle while she was his guest at a drinking party at the Hotel St. Francis here September 5 last.

Arbuckle this afternoon was to be brought from jail where he is held without bail, to a police court for continuation of his preliminary hearing which will decide whether he shall be held to answer to the superior court on the murder charge sworn against him by another guest at the party, Mrs. B. M. Delmont, or a grand jury indictment already returned, which accuses him of manslaughter.

DEFENSE SILENT
The first session of Arbuckle's preliminary hearing, held late yesterday, was adjourned without his attorneys having asked a question in cross-examination or giving any indication of what their plans for his defense might be.

Attaches of the district attorney's office said they had expected the defense to occupy considerable time in cross examination and had no other witnesses ready to put on the stand before today.

The testimony of the three prosecution witnesses already before the court, a nurse and two doctors, was that they observed bruises on Miss Rappe's arms and body. The two doctors said death was due to a ruptured bladder and that the organ was probably injured by external force.

COURT ROOM PACKED
Dr. Shelby Strange, who performed the autopsy on the body of Miss Rappe, said he found bruises on her right arm and that on the left arm there was a scar which might have been caused by a hydroelectric needle.

Great crowds attended yesterday's court session and police guarded aisles adjacent to the court room. Spectators were in the main women, the hearings being held in Judge Sylvain Lazarus' women's court and authorities ruling that women should have the preference over men in securing admittance.

Many of the women spectators were on hand yesterday five hours before the hearing opened and several brought basket lunches.

Today's session of court was announced to begin at 2 p. m.

John H. Hanan's Daughter Is Victim in Love Affair.

TRAGEDY STIRS NEW YORK

"Too Much High Life," Says Assailant's Letter.

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Miss Mildred Hanan, said by the police to be a daughter of the late John H. Hanan, wealthy head of Hanan and Son, shoe manufacturers, was shot three times early today as she was emerging from an apartment house in Brooklyn with John S. Boland, an importer. Mrs. Grace Lawes, who fired the shots, then ended her own life by firing a bullet into her brain, PROMPTED BY JEALOUSY.

Miss Hanan, in a hospital, refused to discuss the shooting.

According to the police, Boland said Mrs. Lawes had crept out of the shadows as he and Miss Hanan emerged from the apartment where they had been visiting a friend, and fired the shots. He attributed the shooting, police said, to jealousy, admitting that he had quarreled with Mrs. Lawes recently over Miss Hanan.

Manhattan's social set is shocked by the tragedy.

Miss Hanan's condition was reported to be critical but not necessarily fatal.

Mrs. Lawes was a daughter of Mrs. M. F. Dittmar, of San Francisco, was a distant relative of Miss Hanan. For four years she had lived with Miss Hanan and the latter's mother in an apartment in the exclusive Park-ave district of Manhattan. Two weeks ago she moved to the Hotel Vanderbilt nearby. The police said that she had sent several threatening letters recently to Miss Hanan.

FAREWELL LETTERS FOUND

Two letters were found in Mrs. Lawes' pocketbook. One, addressed to her mother, asked forgiveness for what she had done. The other, addressed to Mrs. Birdie Williams of Manhattan, formerly a nurse in the Hanan household, requested that Mrs. Williams take Mrs. Lawes' body to San Francisco and have it cremated.

The letter to Mrs. Lawes' mother read:

"Mrs. M. E. Dittmar,
"216 Walnut Street,
"San Francisco, Calif.
"Mother Darling:
"You never can understand what I have been thru here. Don't try to learn. It is passed. I am too tired and ill to try to overcome the great obstacles I have placed in my own way."
"Too much high life. The pace is too fast and the liquor has driven me crazy, dear. Forgive and forget and remember, pray for my soul. Love to all and think of me as I always say to you, a good sweet daughter."
"Lovingly,
"Grace."

TOO MUCH LIVOR

The second letter addressed to the nurse asked her to notify Walter Dunnington at the Madison Square hotel in this city to take care of her affairs.

"Send me home to California cremated," continued the letter. "Make it easy for my darling sweet mother. Don't let her know the truth, dear. Can't stand this sort of thing any longer. * * * *
"Forgive me, Billo, all my mistakes, and remember me as sweet and clean as I was. * * * * been too much liquor and conversation on all sides. * * * *
"The black leather jewel case is in the safe and my rings are gone and I sold the tickets. All my trunks are at the hotel store room. All my bags at Hanan's. Send them home to my mother, please."
After adding that she had sent the "ruby ring to John Boland" the letter added:

"I drew almost all my money out of the Harriman National Bank. Did have $500 in my purse."
Miss Hanan is 24 years old, while Mrs. Lawes was 22. The younger woman, according to the police, had been married to Jerome Wagner of this city, but a divorce had been granted about three years ago.

Boland, a graduate of Dartmouth College, was questioned for several hours by Assistant District Attorney Wilson and detectives. Although admitting that he liked Miss Hanan very much, he denied that they were engaged.

The police said that the two women had been almost inseparable for four years. They expressed belief, however, that Mrs. Lawes had become so incensed by Miss Hanan's acceptance of social invitations from Boland that her mind had become affected. Miss Gettschalk told the police that Mrs. Lawes had been in love with Boland and had been extremely jealous.

The police announced an examination of Mrs. Lawes' stomach would be made to determine if she had been a drug addict.

Questioned at the hospital by detectives, Miss Hanan declined to say what had led up to the shooting.

SAFER IS GRILLED BY ATTORNEY

Dorris On Rack in Trial of Roscoe Crisenberry.

EVIDENCE HELD HEARSAY

Civil Service Board Casts Out Statements Offered

Safety Director D. W. Dorris, first witness called for the city in the trial of Roscoe Crisenberry Friday afternoon, before the civil service commission, developed a bad memory when pressed on cross examination.

When questioned by counsel for the former police officer as to the latter offering to accompany him to a certain home, he stated that he could not remember. Yet he admitted that he had gone to the residence alone and found no one present. It was the only visit he made, he stated.

The conversation alluded to have occurred on the day following the examination.

It was also brought out that on September 10 Dorris and Crisenberry talked together and the latter told him he was satisfied that he was all right. Charges were brought on the following Monday.

Counsel attempted to show that Dorris changed his mind at the instigation of Mayor F. A. Burkhardt. The safety head could not remember whether he had spoken with the mayor during this time.

Attorney Garling for the city objected.

"We want to show," counsel for the defense stated, "that when he changed his mind he was acting as the creature of some person who forced him to prefer these charges."

Dorris told the court that he learned additional evidence against Crisenberry between Saturday and Monday.

"It is hearsay," said Francis Durbin, "and we will pay no attention to it."

On direct examination Dorris related the conversation at the civil service examination and stated that he based the charges on what was said there.

Mayor Burkhardt was an interested spectator in court. He may be called by the defense.

The trial commenced Friday noon before a large throng which filled the council chamber.

STATE BUREAU TO GIVE DAILY MARKET REPORTS

COLUMBUS — Within a week the plan of daily market reports to be furnished the people of Ohio by the state and federal bureaus of markets will be a reality, George U. Marvin, chief of the state bureau of markets, said Friday.

The plan is to tap a government wire passing thru Columbus and carrying up to the minute reports on prices paid in the principal markets of the United States and market conditions.

The plan also contemplates the stationing of federal food inspectors at Dayton and Toledo, in addition to those now employed at Columbus, Cleveland and Cincinnati. These will send to Columbus reports on market conditions in their respective marketing centers.

AFFAIRS IN COUNTY OFFICES FOUND BAD

COLUMBUS — Conditions in county offices in Ohio are worse than in many years, according to state examiners. The state bureau of supervision of public offices is having case after case of shortages in funds, padded pay rolls and disregard for the public interest in the conduct of county offices, according to A. B. Peckinpaugh, veteran head of the examiners who supervise county offices. His statement was made after it became known the bureau is investigating a number of county political scandals.

Names of the counties in which investigations are being made were withheld.

U. S. PROHIBITION HELPS MEXICO

Supplying America With Booze Is Great Industry.

SOURCE OF NATIONAL INCOME

Dry Agitation Now Started in Neighbor Country.

(By LOUIS P. KIRBY.)
MEXICO CITY. — (International News Service.)—While other sources of revenue of the Mexican Treasury have been dwindling because of the closing of mines, the bad crops suspension of operations in the oil fields, John Barleycorn continues to be a pillar of the financial structure of the nation.

Mexico's income from taxes on alcoholic beverages is steadily increasing. During the past year the receipts were 15,000,000 pesos, but they will be much greater this year as there is now what might be called an "export" demand for beverages manufactured in Mexico.

The liquors are chiefly exported across the border, but without the knowledge of Mr. Harding or General Obregon. Bootleggers are smugglers, handling this liquor because this fiery liquor is acceptable to American taste, in the absence of anything else, while mesal and pulque do not appeal to thirsty across the border except among the members of the Mexican colonies.

U. S. MARKET IS SUPPLIED
As some of the border cities have large Mexican elements there is, of course, some smuggling of mesal and pulque, but the real profit for border runners is in tequila.

The prices obtained by bootleggers and other traffickers in "hooch" vary according to the geographical conditions. Tequila is lower at El Paso than in San Antonio, because the smuggler has only to wade across the river at El Paso to reach his market, while he must face the perils of a trip of a hundred miles or so to get to San Antonio.

At El Paso a quart of tequila can be obtained easily for $3, while the price is $6 and $7 a quart in San Antonio. In Mexico tequila made by distillers of reputation ranges in price from fifty to seventy-five cents a quart. But there are even cheaper kinds.

Some of the Mexican smugglers are as deft as magicians of vaudeville. A story is told of an American in a border city whose stock of beverages become exhausted. He drove in his motor car to the shop of a captain of the bootlegging industry.

"I want a bottle of tequila," he said.

"You already have it," replied the bootlegger.

A corner of the cushion was lifted underneath was a bottle of tequila. The smuggler had thrust the bottle under the cushion so swiftly that not one of the two or three men in the car saw him do it.

DISTILLERIES ARE ENLARGED.
When he received payment he caused the money to disappear into his pocket with a swift motion which would have done credit to any magician of the stage.

When the United States lost its revenue of about $800,000,000 a year from distillers and brewers thru the establishing of prohibition there were yeavers of figures who predicted that Mexico's income from beverages would increase enormously, with the possibility that the increase would be great enough to pay all of Mexico's debts, with a surplus for the financing of the country. This has not happened. It is a far cry from fifteen million pesos, or about $7,500,000 to $800,000,000. But there have been substantial gains.

Old breweries and distilleries have been enlarged, and new plants have been built, giving the Government greater returns from these sources than in the past.

Most of the alcoholic drinks of Mexico are made from plants which grow everywhere, almost like weeds. "Home brew" in this country is as old as the Aztecs. All of the rustics know how to make their own drinks without troubling themselves about Internal Revenue stamps, and John Barleycorn's contribution to the Treasury will increase only as far as the urban population of Mexico grows.

There is continued and strong agitation for prohibition, with a possibility that John Barleycorn's money may be rejected in Mexico as in the United States.

Some States, like Chihuahua, have taken definite steps toward prohibition, although in some cases the movements lack sincerity of purpose.

Sometimes the agitation is to serve a political purpose, sometimes to attract prohibition or anti-prohibition agents who have money to spend.

U. S. MONEY IS MISSPENT
Reformers in the United States are distributing much cash in Mexico, and this money very often passes in to the hands of men of a singular sort.

Some fine corner lots and mortgages, at 12 per cent a year, have been acquired thru the generosity of earnest old maids in the United States. In the files of every church organization and reform society interested in helping the Mexicans, it is said, are letters from worthies here who are willing to spend their money for them and spend it wisely.

MONUMENT BUILT TO SEAGULLS

Saved Utah Crops When Threatened By Crickets.

CALLED HEAVEN MESSENGERS

Historic Event Recalled By Recent Dakota Experience.

SALT LAKE CITY. — By Associated Press) — Report from North Dakota that seagulls recently appearing in McLaughlin had destroyed grasshoppers which threatened to ruin the crops, called attention here to a similar incident in Mormon pioneer life in Utah.

Today a notable monument stands in the Mormon temple grounds in Salt Lake City in honor of the birds that saved the early settlers from threatened starvation in 1848. It is a pillar about 100 feet high surmounted by bronze seagull. At its base are inscriptions detailing the reason for its erection with illustrations by Mahonri Young, the Utah sculptor.

CRITICAL SITUATION
The first pioneers trekked across the plains into Salt Lake valley, in 1847. Brigham Young stipulated that there should be intensive cultivation of the land, crops were grown and the farmers looked for a bountiful harvest the next year. Then crickets in huge armies swooped down upon the crops. The farmers tried to eliminate the pest without success. Transportation at the time was difficult, means to obtain foodstuffs from distant points were limited, and the situation looked critical.

When practically every one had given up hope of saving any part of the crops, the seagulls, termed by old Mormons as the "messengers from heaven," appeared. They did not touch the grain but warred on the crickets and in a short time had ridden the fields of the pest. There are no records to show from whence the birds came. The seagull is Utah's sacred bird. It is unlawful to kill it. Many of the people of this state hold it in affectionate memory and during the summer thousands give of their bread to the birds that may be seen in large numbers at Saltair, a resort a few miles from here on the Great Salt Lake.

MEN AND MATTERS.

The Rev. T. W. Hoerneman has returned from Crestline, where he attended a synodical conference of the Reformed church of the Central synod. The Rev. Mr. Hoerneman was elected president of the society at the meeting.

Dr. I. W. Wright of St. Mary's, in

Lima Thursday to meet with the program committee of the Northwest Ohio Dental Association, did not know until a few days ago that he had been elected president of the association. He was absent when the honor was conferred earlier in the year and during the summer months was unaware that he had been elevated to office.

Charles S. Peltier, attending a meeting of the American Insurance Union, at Columbus, as a delegate representing Mayflower Chapter of Lima, was elected referee of the Union, succeeding Rodney H. Brandon, supreme secretary of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Did Kilbane foul Frush in their contest at Cleveland last Saturday? Fight fans all stirred up. You may see for yourself at the Sigma Sunday. Official pictures of the Kilbane-Frush world's championship contest to be shown as an added attraction at the Sigma Theatre this coming Sunday.

Sport writers and fans have been stirred up over the continued claim of the alleged foul by Kilbane on Frush in their championship contest at Cleveland last Saturday. Sides have been taken by admirers of both. Now is the opportunity of settling this dispute forever. Starting at the Sigma Sunday, as an added attraction to the regular picture programme, the official pictures of the Johnny Kilbane and Danny Frush contest will be shown, of the world's greatest featherweight championship, complete from start to finish, round by round. This contest will be shown in the motion pictures taken at the ringside. Lima is very fortunate in being able to see this great contest one week after the actual exhibition, just like being at the ringside.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLIS PHILLIPS

THE UNEXPECTED MEETING

Alas for Ned's plans concerning Arline. That lady had "already" sensed them, and when she found out that he had been ordered to Chicago she made up her own mind about what she was going to do and acted accordingly.

Three days after Ned's arrival in that city he ran in to the girl in one of his "haunts" at lunch time. Arline was becoming confused and surprised, of course. She dropped her bag, and stammered in her embarrassment. Ned, who was beginning to feel desperately lonely in spite of his hopes of having a gay time with old pals, beamed at sight of his secretary.

"Well, well, well, if this isn't good. What on earth are you doing in Chicago, Arline?" he asked, as he shook her hand gaily.

"Just come up here to visit and buy a few necessary clothes. I got sick and tired of things at home, and father told me for goodness sake to run off and amuse myself. Poor, old dear, he's afraid that I will get restless and leave him forever again."

Ned gallantly asked Arline to stay and have lunch with him, which she joyously did. Over their dainty little meal they sat and laughed and gossiped as if there were no such thing as heart trouble in all the world.

"I hope you have been resting properly, young lady," said Ned, looking at her keenly, and noting her deep blush that overspread her face as he stared. "Well, have a little of work to do when we get back to the office and both of us need to be thoroughly rested to tackle the big rush is on in December."

"Been doing nothing, wonderful—well," answered Arline cheerfully, as she avoided his gaze for an instant. "I needed that holiday, Mr. Boss, I can tell you. My nerves were wracked to pieces. When I got home I just slept for three days running. And the rest of the time have been dreaming and sitting out. Haven't thought about work since so there."

"Keep up the good work, it does me credit," answered Ned, as he studied her glowing cheeks, bright eyes and happier look. Arline was a rose. She always suggested flowers and luxuries, some new dress, some new hat. Ned had seen about with such a girl. In the excitement of seeing her

HOW'LL WE USE OUR FACTORIES?

Even Normalcy Can't Absorb Output of Expanded Plants.

THIS IS BIG PROBLEM NOW

Solution Offered By Men In Steel Industry.

By ALBERT APPLE
PITTSBURGH — (N. E. A. Service) — What is America going to do with its increased productive capacity—the excess factories and equipment built up during the war? This is the biggest problem facing business men, according to leaders in the steel industry.

Pessimists point out that the steel industry is operating at an average of only 35 per cent of capacity.

Optimists answer: "Steel production, at 35 per cent capacity, is 50 per cent of normal or pre-war production."

The difference? Steel increased its productive capacity 71 per cent during the war.

Has the steel market's ability to consume steel increased 74 per cent? No, say the steel barons.

COMMON PROBLEM

The value of all manufactured American products in 1919, according to the last census, was $62,600,000,000, compared with $24,256,000,000 in 1914.

A lot of the 1919 gain in value was due to high prices.

Even making allowances for that, economists figure that volume of output (goods themselves) increased between 35 and 40 per cent.

That means, labor in 1919 produced 35 to 40 per cent more than in 1914.

It also means that factory and mill equipment is 35 to 40 per cent greater now than before the war.

HIGHER LIVING STANDARD

The wise men of the steel industry say there are two ways in which the nation's increased productive capacity may be kept busy:

ONE: By increasing the tonnage of our exports far above normal. Such a development is improbable.

TWO: Increase the amount of goods consumed within the United States. The second alternative will be made possible by low prices. Example: The Ford Motor Co. This would mean a tremendous raising of the standard of living.

PEACE TREATIES GIVEN O.K.

Favorable Report is Ordered by Senate Committee.

SUPPORTED BY DEMOCRATS

Reservation Presented by Pomerene is Adopted.

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Favorable report on the peace treaties between the United States and Germany, Austria and Hungary was ordered today by the senate foreign relations committee.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, leader of the fight against the treaty of Versailles, was the only member to vote against reporting the treaties.

Before reporting the three pacts the committee adopted a reservation requiring that congress pass an act for appointment of an American representative on allied commissions by the president with the advice and consent of the senate.

Another reservation adopted by the committee, presented by Senator Pomerene, Democrat, Ohio, provided that protection given the United States government in its property in this should apply also to American nationals.

Senator Johnson of California, who was allied with Senator Borah in the fight against the Versailles treaty, was said to have disagreed with Senator Borah's contentions that the treaties were likely to involve this nation in European affairs. Senator Shields also was one of the "irreconcilables" of the Versailles treaty controversy who today supported the new treaties.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking Democrat on the committee was not present today, but has heretofore expressed himself as favoring the treaties.

RESERVATIONS ADOPTED
The reservation requiring an act of congress and senate confirmation for participation of American representatives on allied commissions was similar to number seven of the original lodge reservations to the Versailles pact. The new reservation was drafted by Senator Lodge with incorporation of suggestions by Senators Johnson and Brandegee.

Senator Johnson insisted that the reservation should include "participation" as well as representation. The resolutions of ratification and reservations as adopted for Austrian and Hungarian treaties were similar.

The Pomerene reservation was to Article 1 of the German treaty, relating to protection of American property rights as provided in the Knox peace resolution and declared that "the words United States shall be construed to include the United States and its nationals." This reservation also accompanies the Austrian and Hungarian pacts.

Senator Borah indicated that he would carry his fight against ratification to the senate floor.

AUTO REPAIRED IN LIMA GARAGE, THOUGHT STOLEN; IS DETAINED IN DAYTON

A newspaper, bearing the name of J. L. Sarber of the Metropolitan garage, 127 E. Spring-st., found in an Oakland roadster car driven into Dayton by a man, giving his name as Edward Casey, played its part in aiding the police there to at least partially clear up the mystery of the ownership of the car, thought to have been stolen.

The automobile carried Indiana license tags when detained, with its driver, in Dayton. Sarber stated Friday that the newspaper bearing his name had been left in the car by a workman when it was taken to the Metropolitan garage here for the installation of a new clutch yoke.

"The driver of the car," Sarber said, "gave his name as George Thompson. He had no money for the repair work, but left a storage battery as security for a bill of $5.50, promising to return within a week.

When the car was in the garage here, the workmen noticed more than a dozen Ford car switch keys under a seat and intended taking the license number of the car, but failed to do so."

CHURCH MERGER IS URGED

Many Varieties, Dr. Fullerton Tells Pittsburg Meeting.

DEES CHRISTIANIZING NEED

declares the Existing Situation is Shameful.

PITTSBURG — (By Associated Press) — One of the greatest difficulties confronting the church lies in the fact that there are 175 varieties of churches in America. Dr. J. H. Fullerton, of St. Louis, at the World's Alliance of Presbyterian and Reformed Churches here today.

Dr. Fullerton is secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions and was telling of the difficulties of home mission work in the United States. Denominationalism, he said, was one of the most serious of these. Each of the 175 kinds of churches was endeavoring to promote its own work both in the city and country, among native and immigrant alike and, consequently, there was not only overlapping but overlooking since there had been no cooperation in the location and development of these various churches.

EXISTING PROBLEM

Continuing he said that the greatest problem before the agencies of the Christian church is to "Christianize the church itself." He declared that there are communities in America where four or five different denominations are at work, each church receiving home mission when one or two churches could both self-sustaining and self-renewing.

Efforts had been made, he said, to change this "shameful situation" up to the present it existed "to the embarrassment of the work and to the credit of the ungodly." An attempt had been made to unite denominations having similar doctrine into one larger unit in this way unite the local churches into one for better service the community, but Dr. Fullerton said that extreme denominationalism prevents any very large application of this principle and strong ties remain apart because of the unimportant or subsidiary position on which the salvation of soul or community depends.

LESS WASTE

It is apparent, therefore, he continued, "that this larger union never be accomplished until the kingdom of God bulks larger in the minds of people than the church. If the salvation and service of mankind becomes a greater concern than the establishment of a specific church."

This duplication of churches is only harmful to the cause but also a useless waste of both money and men.

Dr. Fullerton said it was heartening to know that this condition of things was being considered seriously by churches and missionaries and pointed out that the organization of a Home Missions Council and Council of Women for Missions 14 years ago had been an outstanding evidence of a cooperation prevailing in the church.

PEACE TREATIES GIVEN O. K.

Favorable Report is Ordered by Senate Committee.

SUPPORTED BY DEMOCRATS

Reservation Presented by Pomere is Adopted.

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Favorable report on the peace treaties between the United States and Germany, Austria and Hungary was ordered today by the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

Senator Borah, Republican leader of the right against the treaties, was the only member to vote against reporting the treaties.

Before reporting the three peace treaties, the committee adopted a reservation requiring that congress pass an act for appointment of an American representative on allied commissions by the president with the advice and consent of the senate.

Another reservation, adopted by the committee, presented by Senator Pomere, Democrat, Ohio, provided that provision given the United States government in its proposal in this should apply also to American nationals.

VOIL IS 9 TO 1

The vote on reporting the treaties favorably was nine to one, the supporters of the treaties including six Republicans and three Democrats.

Senator Johnson of California, who was allied with Senator Borah in the fight against the Versailles treaty, was said to have disagreed with Senator Borah's contention that the treaties were likely to involve this nation in European affairs. Senator Johnson also was one of the "irreconcilables" of the Versailles treaty controversy, who today supported the new treaties.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking Democrat on the committee, was not present today, but his heretofore expressed himself as favoring the treaties.

RESERVATIONS ADOPTED

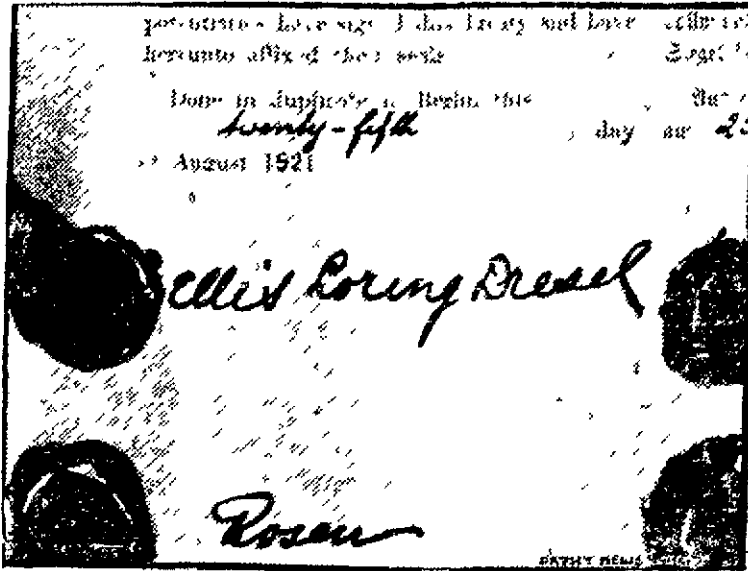

The reservation requiring an act of congress in connection with participation of American representatives on allied commissions was similar to number seven of the original lodge reservations to the Versailles pact. The new reservation was drafted by Senator Lodge with incorporation of suggestions by Senators Johnson and Brandegee.

Senator Johnson insisted that the reservation should include "participation" as well as representation. The resolutions of ratification and reservations as adopted for Austria and Hungarian treaties were similar.

The Pomere reservation was to Article I of the German treaty, relating to protection of American property rights is provided in the Knox peace resolution and declared that "the words United States shall be construed to include the United States and its nationals." This reservation also accompanies the Austrian and Hungarian pacts.

Senator Borah indicated that he would carry his fight against ratification to the senate floor.

MARION O. — Visiting the Matt Jeffries family of Columbus, in a tent seems to have become a habit with the stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffries were traveling by automobile thru the country near here when the stork overtook them yesterday. Mr. Jeffries erected a tent on a vacant lot in the outskirts of Marion and there a son was born.

The attending physician was told by Mr. Jeffries that both he and his wife had been born in tents. The Jeffries expect to continue on their journey.

AUTO REPAIRED IN LIMA GARAGE, THOUGHT STOLEN; IS DETAINED IN DAYTON

A newspaper, bearing the name of J. L. Sarber of the Metropolitan garage, 127 E. Spring-st. found in an Oakland roadster car driven into Dayton by a man giving his name as Edward Casey, played its part in adding the police there to at least partially clear up the mystery of the ownership of the car, thought to have been stolen.

The automobile carried Indiana license tags when detained, with its driver, in Dayton Sarber stated Friday that the newspaper bearing his name had been left in the car by a workman when it was taken to the Metropolitan garage here for the installation of a new clutch yoke.

"The driver of the car," Sarber said, "gave his name as George Thompson. He had no money for the repair work, but left a storage battery as security for a bill of $5.50, promising to return within a week. When the car was in the garage here, the workmen noticed more than a dozen Ford car switch keys under seat and intended taking the license number of the car, but failed to do so."

DEFENSE CALLS NO WITNESSES IN THE CRISENBERRY CASE

Trial of Roscoe Crisenberry, city detective discharged by Safety Director D. W. Morris, began before the civil service commission at the city hall at 1 p. m. Friday. A large crowd of curiosity seekers packed the council chamber to hear the testimony.

Five members of the police department were summoned by the city, to testify. No witnesses were called by Melvin Light, defendant's counsel. All those he wanted present, he said, had been summoned by D. W. Morris, safety head who suspended Crisenberry.

F. W. Durbin, F. H. Downing and Fred Zeltz are the members of the civil service commission.

CHURCH MERGER IS URGED

Too Many Varieties, Dr. Fullerton Tells Pittsburgh Meeting.

SEE CHRISTIANIZING NEED

declares the Existing Situation is Shameful.

PITTSBURG. — (By Associated Press) — One of the greatest difficulties confronting the church, lies in the fact that there are 175 varieties of churches in America, Dr. P. Fullerton, of St. Louis, in the World's Alliance of Presbyterian and Reformed Churches here today.

Dr. Fullerton is secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions and was telling of the difficulties of home mission work in the United States. Denominationalism, said, was one of the most serious of these. Each of the 175 kinds of churches was endeavoring to promote its own work both in the city and country, among native and immigrants alike and, consequently, there was not only overlapping but overlooking since there had been no cooperation in the location and development of these various churches.

GREATEST PROBLEM

Continuing he said that the greatest problem before the agencies of Christian church is to "Christianize the church itself." He declared that there are communities in America where four or five different denominations are at work, each church receiving home mission when one or two churches could have self-sustaining and self-reliance.

Efforts had been made, he said, to change this "shameful situation," up to the present it existed "to the embarrassment of the work and the work of the ungodly." An attempt had been made to unite denominations having similar doctrine into one larger unit in this way unite the local churches into one for better service the community, but Dr. Fullerton said that extreme denominationalism prevents any very large application of this principle and strong ties remain apart because of a unimportant or subsidiary question on which the salvation of soul or community depends.

LESS WASTE

It is apparent, therefore, he said, that this larger union never be accomplished until the kingdom of God bulks larger in the minds of people than the church. The salvation and service of kind becomes a greater concern than the establishment of a specific church.

This duplication of churches is only harmful to the cause but so a useless waste of both money and men.

Fullerton said it was heartening to know that this condition of things was being considered seriously by churches and missionaries and pointed out that the organization of a Home Missions Council and Council of Women for Missions 14 years ago had been an outstanding evidence of a cooperation prevailing in the churches.

LODGE MAY LOSE LEADERSHIP

Republicans Dissatisfied With Progress in Senate.

GIVEN ONE MORE CHANCE

Reorganization is Declared Almost A Certainty.

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — Senator Lodge is to be given "one last chance" to prove himself an effective leader of the Republican majority in the senate, a number of determined western and middle-western republicans have decided.

If Lodge fails to pass the test, reorganization of the present leadership is certain, they said. This reorganization would rob Lodge of everything except the courtesy title leader.

The test Lodge must pass, according to dissatisfied senators, is speedy disposition of the administration's important legislative program, including the treaties of peace, the tax and tariff and railroad, funding bills.

If any change in leadership is made, it is probable it will be about the time Lodge is forced to relinquish some of his senate duties to devote his attention to the disarmament conference.

CAUSES OF COMPLAINT

Dissatisfied senators think the leadership reorganization is inevitable. They pointed out these facts today in support of their belief:

With the administration program hanging fire, Lodge permits the fight on the anti-beer bill to be resumed to the exclusion of other business.

Lodge's lack of aggressiveness threatens to let opponents of the administration's treaties with the central powers subject the senate and the country to long delay in settling the peace terms. Lodge has already indicated a willingness to discuss reservations.

That Lodge, as majority leader, and Cummins of Iowa, as president pro tempore are both too old for the duties of leadership.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, younger than Lodge and a better "mixer" is generally favored to become actual leader, while Curtis, Kansas, present whip, is to move up to Cummins' place as president pro tempore.

LODGE WINS FIGHT

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — Senator Borah apparently has won the first skirmish in his spectacular fight against the Harding administration's peace treaty with Germany.

The "irreconcilable" leader within two days has caused Senator Lodge, senate Republican leader, to indicate that reservations to meet the former's objections may be necessary. Borah virtually is demanding that two Lodge reservations to former President Wilson's treaty be attached to the Harding pact and Republican senate leaders are finding it embarrassing to oppose him.

Senator Lodge today was to lay before the foreign relations committee information he obtained at a conference with Secretary Hughes, concerning the objections to provisions in the new treaty raised by Senator Borah.

Hughes told Senator Lodge that in his opinion, the United States would be under no obligations to keep troops in Germany, but could do so if advisable.

Secretary Hughes told Lodge that the second question raised by Borah which relates especially to the appointment of an American on the reparations committee "had never been satisfactorily answered."

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears go to your drugist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 3 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

POLICE OFFICER EXPLAINS CASE

Dayton, O., is Scene of Unusual Come-Back Narrow Escape Described.

Sergeant Leo A. Goetz, of 313 Wyoming Street, Dayton, O., has been connected with the Dayton Police Force for a great many years and is one of the most popular and well known citizens of Dayton. In an interview recently, Sergeant Goetz explained how he executed a "come back" and escaped from ill health by taking tonic.

"Since 1896 I've suffered more or less with my stomach," says Sergeant Goetz. "At that time I had a great deal of trouble with my stomach. Afterward I began having attacks of indigestion and finally even had to go on a diet. My nerves became affected and my liver also was out of order."

"During the years that I have been experiencing that trouble I have taken many medicines. I am sure I spent several hundred dollars for different preparations but nothing helped me."

"Recently I began to hear a great deal about Pepsogen. Well, to make a long story short, I started taking Pepsogen and it did me a great deal of good. I can eat a hearty meal now without trouble course, am glad to recommend the medicine that relieved me."

"Pepsogen is a new system tonic which is now being specially introduced at Hunter's Drug Stores. It is also sold by other leading drug stores in Lima and nearby towns."

ARREST FACED BY JUNK DEALERS

AKRON MAN BACK ON HIS JOB

Was Almost Down And Out But Is Now In Tip-Top Shape.

"I'll tell the world what I think about Tanlac. It's the best medicine ever made," said H. Ryan, 22 Lincoln-st., Akron, Ohio.

"I ought to be strong for it, for I was almost down and out when I started taking it and now I'm in tip-top shape, feeling as fine as I ever did in my life. Rheumatism had got the best of me and my knees were twice their natural size. I was in such a bad fix I had to give up work and felt pretty miserable, as I needed my wages."

"Tanlac put me back on the job feeling fine and I never lose any time now from my work. I haven't an ache or a pain, either. Tanlac's great."

Tanlac is sold in Lima by Hunter's Drug Store and by leading druggists everywhere. Adv.

city face arrest. Orders to bring them in were issued by Chief of Police O. J. Roush Friday, acting under instructions from Mayor Burkhardt.

Three dealers in junk came to the station when told they were wanted. They were told that the must pay up. They are W. J. Jackman, Nathan Edelman and Alex Miller.

"How should we pay?" Nathan asked Jim Heifner, city clerk. "We haven't got the money."

Claims of poverty made by the trio had no effect on Judge Jackson, who warned them they will be punished if brought before him.

License fee for junk men is $100 annually. There has been a long dispute over the matter and council has an ordinance pending to lower the fee to $35. Dealers have been waiting since the first of the year to pay. The ordinance has considerable opposition in council.

With the exception of the delinquents named, all dealers in the city have paid. Twenty-four hours was given the dealers to pay their license or face prosecution.

0,000,000 TO DIE OLD MAIDS

Number of Women in Europe Condemned.

CAUSE OF CONDITION

See Females Competing For Men's Jobs.

(BY N. E. A. SERVICE)

LONDON — There are 10,000,000 men and girls in Europe condemned by a surplus of their sex to support themselves thru life and die.

This condition, aggravated by the war, is resulting in strenuous competition by women for men's jobs.

The situation is especially acute in the British Isles, where the first preliminary reports of the 1921 census show the females greatly outnumber the males, the city population vastly exceeds the country dwellers.

For more than 100 years there has been an excess of females over males, never in anything like the present proportion, 1095 to 1000.

THE FIGURES

The total number of people in England and Wales is 37,885,242, of whom 18,982,220 are males and 18,903,022 females. This is an excess of 79,202 females, compared with 19,276 in 1911.

Aside from the regular excess of female over male births in England, Wales, and aside from the loss of population by emigration, the disparity this time is caused by huge losses of men during the war.

In Scotland the population is 4,258, of whom 2,348,403 are males and 2,503,885 females. The excess of females is 185,482.

His means that in Great Britain there are nearly 2,000,000 women cannot hope to marry and have their own homes, unless they happen to marry foreigners, or emigrate. This phenomenon is common to most of Europe. The last available figures for the continent are in the main those of 10 years ago which show the following excesses of females over males:

Russia	2,500,000
Germany	841,000
France	683,000
Italy	628,000
Spain	550,000
Austria	506,000
Portugal	398,000
Hungary	325,000
Sweden	111,000
Denmark	84,000
Switzerland	62,000
Belgium	62,000
Netherlands	60,000
Finland	22,000
Ireland	6,000

Including the excess of Great Britain at that time, Europe had a total of nearly eight million more females than males.

The excess now is at least 10,000,000.

All of the belligerent countries lost huge quantities of their men during the war. And in Russia, Poland and the new states carved out of Russia, there have been additional losses from famine and disease.

GROWTH OF CITIES

But the growing city population of Great Britain is just as alarming to the social economists. One hundred years ago England and Wales were self-sustained as to food.

Since then the population has tremendously increased and the total of foodstuffs grown at home has probably decreased.

The result is that Great Britain is a huge workshop which must buy its daily bread and meat from abroad and pay for it in manufactured goods.

The present census shows that in the urban districts of England and Wales the population was 30,034,355 as against only 7,850,887 in the rural districts. The people's concentration in cities is illustrated by the huge towns:

Greater London	7,476,168
Glasgow	1,034,069
Birmingham	919,438
Liverpool	893,118
Manchester	730,551
Sheffield	490,724
Leeds	458,320
Edinburgh	420,231
Bristol	377,061
West Ham	300,905
Kingston on Hull	287,013
Bradford	285,979

WILL DEFY DEATH IN HEALTH HUNT

U. S. Party to Invade Northern
Wilds in Science Research

STUDY OF ESKIMO PLANNED

Expect to Discover New Theories of Living.

HALIFAX, N. S. — (By Associated Press) — Problems of dietetics, nutrition and sex among the Eskimos will be studied by an expedition to be sent out next May by the School of Hygiene of Johns Hopkins University. The plans were outlined here by Dr. Victor E. Levine, professor of biochemistry and nutrition at the Creighton School of Medicine, Omaha, who visited Halifax early this month on his way to Battle Harbor, Labrador.

Dr. Levine said that he had been sent as an advance guard to go with a party from Battle Harbor into the Eskimo country for a preliminary survey, particularly with regard to climatic conditions. He said that the main expedition next year would be solely one of scientific research and that it was planned to penetrate parts of the Eskimo region hitherto unvisited by white people.

The Eskimos, he said, are the healthiest people in the world when not contaminated by white people. Because of this fact the members of the expedition hope that they may discover some new theory of health as put into practice by the dwellers in the northland.

Dr. Levine and his party will return in November, 1922. The main expedition will spend next summer and part of the winter of 1922 among the Eskimos.

WORLD NEWS

BRID, Pa. — Thomas D. Randolph of Sharon, Pa., who startled his friends late in July by disappearing and sending a letter to his father saying he had been kidnapped and demanding $50,000 ransom, entered a plea of guilty to using the mails to defraud and was sentenced to serve four months in the Mercer county jail.

WASHINGTON — Major General Leonard Wood was formally nominated by President Harding to be governor of the Philippines.

WASHINGTON — H. H. Stackhouse of Springfield, Ohio, president of the National Implement and Vehicle Association, was named as one of ten additional members of the National Employment Conference to be held here.

WASHINGTON — Rear Admiral Robert S. Griffin, after a service of 47 years in the navy, retired as chief of the bureau of engineering. He was succeeded by J. K. Robinson, of the bureau of operations.

NEW YORK — A fund of $100,000 has been raised among friends of the late Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior in former President Wilson's cabinet, the income of which will be paid to Mrs. Lane for life. He died last May at Rochester, Minn., and left practically no estate.

CASE OF EQUAL GUILT OF MEN WITH WOMEN UP

NEW YORK — The question of the equal guilt of men with that of women in offenses against morality — the age old question of the "single standard" — will be threshed out in the courts here next Wednesday with a millionaire mine owner, Edward N. Brettung, as the central figure.

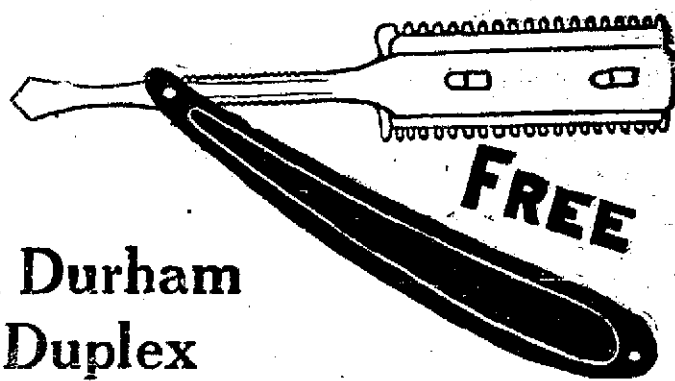

Brettung will be tried on a charge of vagrancy upon which his three women companions in a recent incident were convicted. The wealthy coal and oil operator, reputed to be worth more than $18,000,000, was arraigned yesterday on the technical charge under sections of the penal code which hold guilty any one who "aids, abets, or participates in the crime of vagrancy."

Brettung will be the first man over to be tried under the new legislation, and the whole question of a "single standard" of punishment and morality will be discussed.

Women are more careful in addressing letters than men, says an employe in the Washington dead letter office.

MILITARISM MAY BECOME ISSUE

Bryan Predicts Outcome if Arms
Conference Fails.

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — Militarism will become the vital issue in the politics of the world powers if President Harding's conference on the limitation of armaments fails to put a check on international armament, William J. Bryan said here today in an interview with the United Press.

The people of the United States and the entire world are demanding disarmament and have "high hopes for the success of the conference," the Commoner declared.

"Failure of the conference, in my opinion, probably would make militarism one of the main issues in the next presidential campaign," Bryan said. "Munitions makers and others immediately after an unsuccessful conference, would raise the cry that the nation must be made the most powerful military and naval force in the world. They would demand another armament race. There would be the issue.

"Should the conference fail to reach an agreement, I believe a powerful reaction against the cabinets in power will set in. The people will demand new governments that will stop spending billions for armament."

"If the representatives of the powers here for the conference will not agree to limit armament, I am inclined to favor appealing to the peoples of these countries to choose cabinets that will favor such a step."

"Powerful forces are at work to defeat the work of the conference here and abroad, and these must be exposed to the public. I do not wish to hamper the conference in any way, but I do not like some recent developments which I do not care to mention here."

OPEN LETTERS

To County Commissioners

DEAR BOYS: That you have had the interior of the common pleas court room redecorated is certainly pleasing to a large contingent of the residents of Allen-co, who are required to pass thru the portals of that part of the county edifice, for one reason or another.

A court room, even in hues of the gayest color, which blend perfectly, is not the most inviting place on earth, but when the walls are dull and dirty, such a place is positively repelling.

In behalf of the people, I thank you.

LIMA BEANE

To Service Director McClain

DEAR MAC: We still have with us the nuisance occasioned by garbage collectors. In many parts of the city they are careless and after they pass down a street it would not take a Sherlock Holmes to detect the fact.

What can be done about it, Mac?

LIMA BEANE.

To Congress

DEAR BOYS: While I have my doubts about any great amount of pleasure for you or the public at large, being derived from resumption of your sessions in Washington, after a mid-summer vacation, I am nevertheless glad that you are back on the job.

I trust that various things of the greatest importance to national welfare, which have been held up while you have been at play, will be speedily taken care of. Winter is near and there are many things that need adjustment before real progress can be made. Get busy and cut out any inclination to indulge in foolishness.

LIMA BEANE

To Dr. H. H. Drysdale, Alienist

DEAR DOCTOR: You say insanity has decreased since prohibition. And yet there are thousands who drink hair tonic, lemon extract and home brew. Are they crazy?

LIMA BEANE

To the County Road Council

MY FRIENDS: I am more than pleased to not that, unanimously, your organization has approved the five-year good roads program promulgated for Allen-co.

Long ago I was impressed with the conclusion that the one and only way to get anywhere with road improvement is the mapping out of a fixed plan, with a rigid adherence to it. It is impossible for all roads of the county to be rebuilt at the same time. The approval of the state highway department will help, too.

LIMA BEANE

To Prospective Builders

MY FRIENDS: This looks like a pretty good time to arrange for that little home you have been planning for so long. Prices have tumbled a long way and I am informed that there is not much chance of them going lower soon.

We'll need a great many more houses in Lima next Spring. There are not enough now. What will the condition be when the factories draw in a great many workers from the outside?

LIMA BEANE

To the City Service Department

GENTLEMEN: Out in the district where the big sewers are being put in you spent a great deal of time and money in fixing up streets. Then, along came the big ditcher and away went a lot of the work you had done.

In some places sidewalks were ordered laid and were hardly set before the sewer gangs tore them up and threw them out in the streets. Is this economy?

LIMA BEANE

To Kiwanians

DEAR FRIENDS: It is my good pleasure to unite with you in welcoming a large contingent of members of your interesting and progressive club to my city the coming week, on Tuesday and Wednesday, for the state convention.

I have had ample notice of this event, but regret to say that I have been remiss in preparing my best bib and tucker in anticipation of the coming of a large number of splendid citizens of Ohio, men and women.

However, my doors are wide open in welcome. I'm glad your fellow members and their ladies are coming to my city. I'll do my best to see to it that you are given every assistance in their entertainment.

LIMA BEANE

To F. D. Carpenter

MY DEAR FRANK: As general manager of the Western Ohio Railroad company, I am expressing to you, on behalf of the large number of commuters coming into my city, regret that you have ceased to provide a trailer on the 7:45 a. m. from the south, each Monday morning.

Passengers from Wapakoneta, Cridersville and way points inform me that standing room is at a premium after the car leaves Wapakoneta and that the trip is thus made a very uncomfortable one for many.

LIMA BEANE

To Householders

FRIENDS: How about the coal bin? Jack Frost will be sneaking in pretty soon and you'll need some fuel. Don't say you weren't warned if there is a shortage when you order it.

LIMA BEANE

To Baseball Players

BOYS: At this time it is impossible for me to come right out in public and address any of four clubs as league champions. I have a pretty good idea which two clubs will mix up in the world's series, which begins October 5, but I will not offend any by making a prediction.

The only thing I want to say at this time is that I hope you who are at the top will continue to fight until the last ball is pitched, and then when the league race is settled that you will put up a real contest, clean and above reproach. That's the only kind the public will stand for.

LIMA BEANE

To Postmaster Sullivan

DEAR JIM: Thru you, as Uncle Sam's representative in the postal department in my city, I am extending my thanks and appreciation, on behalf of business men and manufacturers of Lima, to the postal authorities for improved mail service between my city and New York and other eastern points.

Installation of facilities on the Penna. Lines, the Broadway Limited, makes it possible for letters mailed at the postoffice here up to 4:40 p. m. to reach New York at 9:40 a. m. the following day.

This affords Lima mail service to the east that is second to none.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH US, ANYWAY?

Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, Sets the Cause and the Cure

BY SAMUEL GOMPERS

President American Federation of Labor

THE present industrial depression is not essentially different from the cycles of financial and industrial depression which have come with somewhat regular frequency.

It is the magnitude of the present situation that makes the problem so acute. The fundamental cause is the same—faulty judgment on the part of those responsible for management.

The degree of responsibility for management that rests on the various contributing elements concerned in production varies with each industrial establishment.

Bad management means waste—unnecessarily high costs of production. This waste is cumulative and finally becomes too heavy for the productive processes to carry.

Then comes the crash!

During the war economy of production was a secondary consideration. The dislocation effected by war production was world wide. A serious strain has been placed on all the elements participating in industry.

The calamity that has resulted will serve a good purpose if it leads to careful study and an evaluation of the basic principles upon which industry, commerce and finance are organized, together with an understanding of the human beings whose intelligence and labor power are necessary to coordinate the materials and forces of industry.

America is rich in natural resources, gold, much more, productive establishments and commercial agencies.

SERVICE:

If we have sufficient wealth of intelligence and human creative ability we can put our material wealth at the service of the humanity of the world.

The function of wealth must be service. There are barriers of prejudice, precedent, unearned income that interfere with the use of credit and wealth for the fullest volume of production in the service of humanity.

In order to eliminate industrial and financial depressions, we must eliminate practices and institutions that prevent the ideal of service to humanity from being the controlling principle in production and human activity.

Sunday — Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the executive committee Southern Pacific railroad.

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

—THE BODY—

The hint of colder weather in the brisk autumn air these days warns dad that the furnace will have to be put in order soon so that winter will find the house warm and comfortable inside.

The furnace is theoretically a machine for the economical production of heat. When the proper amount of the proper kind of fuel is properly put into it, when the ashes are cleaned out properly, and the drafts properly adjusted, the chances are that it will heat the house properly.

How like the human body is a furnace! Food is taken into the human body to produce heat. If too little fuel is put into the furnace it will operate inefficiently. So, too, with the body.

If too much fuel or the wrong kind is put into the furnace the ashes will soon clog its efficiency unless promptly removed. So, too, with the body.

We must first feed ourselves the right amount of food of the right kind and then must see that the waste materials are removed in order that the valuable materials may have their chance to supply the necessary heat to the body. If too great an amount of this debris is allowed to remain the fires of the body are in danger of being put out by these poisonous materials. The removal of these materials is one of the functions of the intestinal canal.

The hurry and haste of today is too often apt to result in constipation. Chronic constipation is one of the most common ailments flesh is heir to. It may not seem serious at first but as one grows older it is liable to reduce the body resistance so as to permit the inroads of disease germs. Thus it is necessary to train the intestinal apparatus so that it will function regularly.

Chronic constipation can usually be cured by some setting up exercises each morning and care in the selection of a diet. Fruits and green vegetables and bread made from the coarser grains are helpful. A glass of warm water upon arising will act as a natural and harmless laxative.

Too many physics are harmful as they make the bowels move only under stimulation. If constipation cannot be cured by a careful diet and good exercise, a physician should be consulted.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THE SILENT VOICE

The voice is mute; the singer is forgot;

The curtain falls, the actors' art has fled,

In memory survive these glorious dead

Where all they did to comfort men cannot.

The Soldier falls, but still above his grave

The starry banner flies for men to brave.

Each leaves his symbol when his work is done,

Some marked by steel and some by finishing stone;

By something real the worth of man is known,

To win the praise of these who follow on.

But when the voice of sweetness fades away

Men may remember, for a little while,

The songs which set their spirits all a-canto

But music passes with its house of clay.

Stocks and Bonds Increase Millions in Value.

(By B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK (Special) — It's a fact that will probably astonish you: The aggregate market value of securities is greater today than it was when the war began, fifteen months ago. Here's another fact few people have realized: The market value of stocks and bonds has recently increased several billion dollars. Since the beginning of this month, the average advance in ten representative industrial stocks has been $5.70 a share and the advance in ten representative railroad stocks $2.94 a share.

After all, the broad swings of the security market affect every family in the land. When securities come declining it means that poorer times must be expected and that we will be less inclined for labor, the other hand, when the security markets enter a sustained upward movement, it forecasts improving business and greater employment. Such sustained movements are not brought about by the whims of any cliques of bears or bulls, no matter how daring or crafty. Such movements are governed by fundamental financial, industrial, agricultural, transportation and trade conditions.

This being so, it is well worth knowing what has been taking place during the past few months, because the recovery has been very much greater in the public has any idea of.

The following tables reflect what has been happening throughout the stock market:

Relief work among returned world war veterans will be continued for at least another two months. Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson, head of the home service department, announced Friday. It had been previously decided to close the office, on account of lack of money.

Sufficient money has been raised, however, to go on for a time at least. Service men are urged by Mrs. Jackson to get their claims and other affairs to be handled thru the office settled up as rapidly as possible.

the common stocks of all these companies is less than $700,000,000, whereas the Pennsylvania Railroad alone has $500,000,000 of stock in the hands of the public. As Floyd W. Mundy, one of the ablest minds among the brokerage houses, aptly remarks:

"Outside of a few issues like U. S. Steel Common stock, the industrial securities which we have featured for several years are merely dust on the surface of the securities structure."

He adds that an average advance of one point in each railroad, public utility, government, state and municipal security equals more than $500,000,000 and an average of 10 points equals over six thousand million dollars.

He makes this thoughtful statement:

"Railroads have outstanding over sixteen billions of securities, public utilities, let us say, fifteen billions, the United States government over twenty billions and besides there are billions of state, municipal and other securities, including bonds of all descriptions, which together we designate as the characteristic peace time bread winner securities. In order to secure a right perspective on developments in our market, (we speak of the securities market, not the wool or hide, or cotton, or steel market), one must contemplate the fact that despite the general collapse of it, the bulk of the stocks and bonds in this group of, let us suppose, sixty and upwards billions is higher in market price than in June, 1920."

One cannot but give a favorable answer to this question:

"With this record shown in the past year of collapse may we not expect, when actual earnings shall demonstrate the restoration to their former status of many companies which were almost ruined by the war conditions, that their stocks and bonds will advance?"

Not much encouragement in all this for those who still wear blue glasses, is there?

RATES DECLARED NOT HURTFUL

Rails Disclaim Responsibility For Business Drop.

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Had the railroads been given sufficient revenues when they needed it, the 40 per cent increase in freight rates ordered by the interstate commerce commission last year, never would have been heard of, H. R. Lewis, freight traffic manager of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Cincinnati, told members of the state public utilities commission today at the rate investigation on farm products.

Mr. Lewis said a ten per cent increase should have been given the carriers in 1914, and that a five per cent increase would have been welcomed back in 1911. At this juncture Commissioner Marshall asked Mr. Lewis if he knew what dividends were paid by the trunk line carriers up until 1918. Lewis said he did not know.

According to Mr. Lewis, the present freight rates are not retarding industry. He said he had answers from shippers to this specific question, and in almost every instance the shippers asserted present freight rates have nothing to do with lack of business.

Mr. F. Denig, traffic manager for the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, asserted there is at present no fixed basis on which grain rates are computed by the carriers and that he is going to ask the carriers that a conference be held to establish such a basis.

From Mr. Lewis it was developed that the carriers had proposed a tentative rate reduction on sugar beets ranging from five to twenty per cent on less than 25 mile hauls and an increase of one cent a ton on distances over 25 miles but that this proposed rate had been rejected by the sugar beet interests who want the both 25 and 40 per cent rate increases removed.

RETAIL PRICES SOAR WHILE PRODUCE DROPS

COLUMBUS — Although the retail prices of food increased in Ohio during August, according to government statistics, prices of farm products are still falling, reports received by C. J. West, state federal agricultural statistician for Ohio, show.

Of the 25 commodities most frequently sold by farmers, there has been a decrease in price since August 15 of all but a few. Wheat has advanced five cents a bushel, eggs three cents a dozen and calves one cent a pound, but aside from these there has been a decrease or no change, in all farm products.

HALLOWEEN SUPPER Twelve Covers For Five Dollars

By SISTER MARY

FOR the hostess who wants her Halloween supper to be a bit out of the ordinary and is willing to fork, this menu is fine:

Jack O' Lantern Salad Sandwiches
Hobgoblins' Delight

Witches Puff-balls
Candy
Coffee

This little supper lends itself to a yellow and black color scheme and can be served to 12 people for $5.

JACK O' LANTERN SALAD

Cut a slice from the top of an orange, scoop out the fruit without breaking the skin. Carve a Jack O' Lantern face on one side of the shell and fill shell with the following salad mixture:

One cup shredded cabbage, 3 large grape fruit, 1 cup nut meats, 1-2 cup diced celery, 1 pint oysters, 1-2 cup tomato catsup, 1 cup minced green pepper, mayonnaise.

Parboil oysters for ten minutes. Drain and cool and remove tough muscles. Cut grape fruit in halves and remove sections from skin. Save an ostrin juice. Mix cabbage, nuts, oysters, grape fruit pulp, celery and pepper with catsup and grape fruit juice. Put in a cold place till ready to serve. Then add mayonnaise to hold together and put in orange shells.

SANDWICHES

Preserved, not crystallized or candied, ginger, chopped and combined with Philadelphia cream cheese make attractive yellow sandwiches. The bread may be white or rye. One side rye and the other white makes a good Halloween combination. Chop the ginger and add enough cheese to spread. Chopped pimentos and olives in equal proportions make a tasty sandwich with the salad. Bake brown bread in small round baking powder cans.

Made Three Trips to Hot Springs But Still Was Unsuccessful in Quest. Finally Returned Home and After All Else Failed He Found Nerv-Worth Gave Relief from His Trouble.

"I can now go on duty feeling like a new man," said Clyde E. Vitte of Morgantown, W. Va., police force. "One bottle of Nerv-Worth did me more good than three trips to Hot Springs. I had been bothered with stomach trouble for about eight years. My food didn't digest properly and I was constantly bothered with gas forming on my stomach. I took treatment at Jacksonville, Fla. and at Hot Springs, but got only slight relief. I was forced to lay off on account of my condition. I couldn't sleep nights, my stomach pained me constantly and nothing that I ate would agree with me. I took several different preparations but got no relief, so finally I tried Nerv-Worth and the first bottle did me more good than the three trips to Hot Springs. My stomach no longer bothers me and I sleep like a log. I can and do recommend Nerv-Worth highly and hope that it helps others as it has helped me."

The annual executive luncheon of the Woman's Missionary society of Lima Presbytery has become an event that is looked forward to with much interest, not only by the members of the local societies of the Market-st and Olivet Presbyterian churches, but also by the entire 27 other churches located in this part of Ohio.

Thursday noon, 78 members sat at the beautifully appointed tables at the Market-st church. A delicious luncheon was served by the Young Ladies' Aid under the direction of the chairman, Mrs. Homer Hughes. Baskets of autumn flowers formed the timely decorations.

Short table talks were given first by the president, Mrs. R. E. Hughes, of Bluffton; then Miss Ida Panabaker told of the Young People's Conference at Wooster. Miss Eunice Trumbo gave a most interesting talk of a Midsummer Christmas Tree, which was enjoyed by the Columbus Grove society in August. Instead of sugar plums, there were all sorts of nice gifts that had been made to send to one of the Presbyterian hospitals in China. The speaker told how the va-mest days in summer may be made comfortable by preparing gifts for far away children.

At the conclusion of the luncheon all adjourned to the auditorium. The regular business of the district was given attention, with Mrs. Hughes presiding. Mrs. Ralph Kohr, of Columbus Grove, led the devotionals after which Mrs. William Wilson, of Olivet church gave a vivid picture of the great General Assembly meeting of the Presbyterian churches at Winona Lake, speaking of Congresswoman Miss Alice Robertson.

Mrs. Samuel Huecker followed with a delightful vein of reminiscences of the assembly and spoke of how an old Lima boy, Dr. Fred Eastman, now a member of the New York Board of the Presbyterian church had been "putting Lima on the map" as one known to have written "Unfinished Business," a most fascinating book on Home Missions.

The president gave a message from the board, telling of one new place to invest money, "the Great Hospital Ship," which is being constructed in Alaska.

Mrs. John Hartman, of Findlay told of how she thoroughly enjoyed the Bible Conference and School of Missions held at Wooster in August and endorsed it as being a most worth while place to spend a vacation.

Members of the Carnation club met with Mrs. Walter Kundert at her home on S. Metcalf-st, Thursday afternoon. In a clever contest, Mrs. Maude Cummings and Mrs. E. L. Benner were successful and at the conclusion of the enjoyable afternoon a dainty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Mary Kundert.

Members present included Mrs. L. R. McWhorter, Mrs. A. D. Humes, Mrs. P. A. Sauter, Mrs. Maude Cummings, Mrs. Frank Gladden, Mrs. E. L. Benner and the hostess. Guests were Mrs. C. R. Hartler, Mrs. Edward Wagner and Miss Mary Kundert.

A group of friends of Master Charles Behrens gathered at his home Wednesday evening in celebration of his 10th birthday anniversary. Games and music formed the evening's entertainment and at a late hour a dainty lunch was served by the host's mother.

Those present included Ruth Johnson, Wilma Bruskatter, Roxie Dye, Mary Jane Goetz, Leland Derbyshire, Robert Johnson, Douglas Dye, Bernard Shank, Raymond Snook, Clark Dunbar, James Bruskatter, Ronald Cook and Charles Behrens.

Members of the Add-a-Stitch club and their husbands enjoyed a very pleasant garden party at the B. A. Gramm residence on S. Cole-st, Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shridder as host and hostess. The evening was enjoyed socially and a dainty repast was served.

Next regular meeting will be held with Mrs. Robert Neuman, of W. Spring-st.

Officers of the Woman's Music club will distribute the year books to the members of the club at Harman's store, corner Elizabeth and Market-sts, Saturday afternoon and evening.

Miss Mildred Patton, of E. Pearl-st accompanied by Miss Margaret Schramb, of Ridgeport, O., will leave Saturday noon for Ypsilanti, Mich., where she will enter the Normal School.

YOUR FACE

BY MME. MOREAU Really it's done in the best of society, and the more it's done, the better. Only, of course, it must be the nice kind of faces!

If your face isn't just the kind of a face you want, try making it over, just as you would last winter's dress! Take off all the summer blemishes, then with a little cream and lots of patience go to work!

Seat yourself before your mirror. Smile at yourself, not gently in the way the lines should go and eventually you'll have the kind of an expression you want.

If the summer blemishes, freckles and the like, are bothering you much, there are numerous simple ways of doing away with them! Freckles may be battled with a mixture made of two ounces of lemon juice, one dram of confectioner's sugar or powdered rock candy and one-half dram of powdered borax. Let stand for four or five days, shaking occasionally and then apply, three times a day with a camel's hair brush.

Never, never put anything on your face which contains any mineral drugs, such as salts of lead, mercury or bismuth. They'll eventually make your skin as yellow as an old parchment.

And you shouldn't use an acid on the skin much, because it contracts the pores, thus weakening them and causing sagging or wrinkles! The bugbear! For instance, lemon juice, or lemon juice preparations—don't ever use them for more than a week in succession. Give the skin a rest, then even if the desired effect hasn't been entirely gained. In another week finish the work, which you started with the acid.

LETTERS TO LOVERS

TO AN ANXIOUS MAN

BY WINONA WILCOX

By WINONA WILCOX

"At what age does a girl make the nicest bride?" asks one who signs himself ANXIOUS LOVER.

"Only the Sphinx can reply to that," thought I—and then I remembered that letters from young women often contain hints which would seize the attention of any suitor in doubt. I turned over a pile of delicately penned pages of note paper.

"Does he love me?" So ends, invariably, the note from the very young girl. Doubt seems to be natural to a girl in her first love affair. Perhaps it is her safeguard. Perhaps it is a fortunate deterrent of early marriage.

"I care a great deal for him," TWENTY admits that—and no more. TWENTY is the passive recipient of man's adoration. His devotion he owes to her charms. She expects to be loved—and considers it a privilege to permit any man to love her. Cautious TWENTY is alive to her own value.

"I idolize him," TWENTY-FOUR is positive about the intensity of her feelings. If she quarrels with the man, she always knows she is to blame, and she takes the initiative in making up. She is in the mental state of the Indian widow who immolates herself upon her husband's funeral pyre. The maternal instinct dominates her. She ardently desires to darn her lover's socks.

But "TWENTY-SEVEN" no longer flatters a lover. "The man seems to be very fond of me—but how do I know he will be loyal?" she inquires. Evidently she has returned one or more diamond rings. While skeptical, she still is anxious not to miss matrimony as woman's

GIRL SHOULD BE WARNED

In Love With Man of Questionable Character

Friend is Advised to Import Information to Mother of Girl

Dear Miss Smart: I am a heart-broken girl and I am writing you to see if you can help me or tell me what you think is best for me to do. On several occasions I have come into contact with a business man of great renown. He was always so kind to me and gave me so much to do. I think he really cared for me. He was always so courteous. Now I realize how much I care for him. I feel terrible because he has never called me or in any way continued to show his interest in me. What would you advise me to do? I am a girl 17 years old.

SUZANNE

Really, my dear, I am not certain what my advice to you in this heart-rending affair should be. Perhaps

Y OU are right in saying the girl should be warned, but if you will be prudent you will not tell her of this man's character yourself. Often our good intentions are misunderstood. No doubt, if you were to tell her of this man's questionable character she would resent your interference and feel you were meddling.

Perhaps the best step for you to take would be to go to her mother and tell her of this man's character. Make her understand that you are only fulfilling your duty and trying to save her daughter from unhappiness, which might result from a friendship with this man. The girl's mother could, doubtless have more influence upon her than anyone else. You can readily see that if any outsider should warn the girl, her interest in the man would simply increase. It seems that is simply human nature.

I could tell you better what you need. You certainly do flatter yourself. Surely you don't think a "business man of great renown" is going to show any great interest in a foolish little girl of 17? You simply mistook professional courtesy and kindness for interest in you. Since you have only casually known this man and have only come in contact with him in a business way, have little basis for your regard. Forget about him. You have other friends; turn your attention to them.

She is in the mental state of the Indian widow who immolates herself upon her husband's funeral pyre. The maternal instinct dominates her. She ardently desires to darn her lover's socks.

But "TWENTY-SEVEN" no longer flatters a lover. "The man seems to be very fond of me—but how do I know he will be loyal?" she inquires. Evidently she has returned one or more diamond rings. While skeptical, she still is anxious not to miss matrimony as woman's normal experience. Common sense rules her—and she is proud of it. If THIRTY writes at all, she says, "He is perfectly respectable, and his salary is thus-and-so, but do you think I can get along with his mother?" The practical is very strong in THIRTY.

After all, the niceness of a bride depends pretty much upon the man himself. Will he continue to appreciate in a woman the qualities for which he married her?

From AMBITIOUS comes this: "The girl to whom I am engaged has just informed me that she doesn't intend to marry me unless I give up my ambition to become a professional man. Her people are all in the commercial world, and she wants me to stick to it. I'd like to know if I'm justified in resenting her verdict."

Your resentment is your cue to conduct. It prompts you to trust yourself, to work out your own career.

Love often passes, but man's ambition seldom does. A man can quite honestly love several girls in succession—so must men claim, but to the guiding star of his personal ambition, he remains constant.

Hereditarily explains it. Hereditarily speaking when a man feels that he has it in him to be an artist rather than an auctioneer, or a lawyer rather than a manufacturer. Erotic emotions are subject to change. Inherited tendencies to work are hard to overcome.

Chimneys lean toward the east, due to drying of their moisture by the morning sun.

In this coming year when strenuous time will, no doubt, be facing many, the league expects to receive numerous calls, which will claim their attention.

Officers and members of the committee of the Y. W. C. A. are to have a conference at Trinity M. E. church, Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Following the conference dinner will be served to the officers and members of the committees at 5 p. m. The general public is invited to attend the conference.

Engene Conner, of N. Washington, returned from a three month's tour thru Canada and the Pacific coast states. After a short visit with his parents he will return to the University of Michigan to continue his course in dentistry.

HALLOWEEN SUPPER Twelve Covers For Five Dollars

By SISTER MARY

FOR the hostess who wants her Halloween supper to be a bit out of the ordinary and is willing to risk, this menu is fine.

Hot O' Lantern Salad Sandwiches
Hobgoblins' Delight

Salted Nuts Witches Put-balls
Coffee Candy

This little supper lends itself to a yellow and black color scheme and can be served to 12 people for $5.

JACK O' LANTERN SALAD
Cut a slice from the top of an orange, scoop out the fruit without breaking the skin. Curve a Jack of Lantern face on one side of the shell and fill shell with the following salad mixture:

One cup shredded cabbage, 3 large grape fruit, 1 cup nut meats, 1-2 cup diced celery, 1 pint oysters, 1-2 cup tomato catsup, 1 cup minced green pepper, mayonnaise.

Parboil oysters for ten minutes. Drain and cool and remove from shells. Cut grape fruit in halves and remove sections from skin. Save an ostrain juice. Mix cabbage, nuts, oysters, grape fruit pulp, celery and pepper with catsup and grape fruit juice. Put in a cold place till ready to serve. Then add mayonnaise to hold together and put in orange shells.

SANDWICHES
Preserved, not crystallized or candied, ginger chopped and combined with Philadelphia cream cheese make attractive yellow sandwiches. The bread may be white or rye. One side rye and the other white makes a good Halloween combination. Chop the ginger and add enough cheese to spread. Chopped pickles and olives in equal proportions make a good sandwich with the salad. Bake brown bread in small round baking powder cans.

Cut in very thin slices. In half the pieces cut a Jack of Lantern face. Use a sharp-edged thimble to make the eyes, cut a triangle with a sharp knife for the nose and a tiny crescent knife for the mouth. Put the slices together with pinpoints cheese.

HOBGOBLINS' DELIGHT
Six cups peach pulp, 6 cups grated pineapple, 1-2 cups sugar, 1 pint whipping cream.

Canned peaches may be used if fresh ones are not to be had. Pare fresh peaches properly and rub thru a sieve. Sprinkle with sugar and add grated pineapple. Turn into a freezer mold and freeze. Whip cream and add 1-2 cup powdered sugar and 1-2 teaspoonful of vanilla. Serve the frozen mixture topped with the whipped cream.

WITCHES' PUT-BALLS
Two cups powdered sugar, 1-2 cup butter, 1 cup sweet milk, 2-3 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, whites 4 eggs.

Beat butter and sugar. Add 1-2 cup flour sifted 3 times. Mix and sift baking powder, salt and flour 3 times and add alternately with milk to first mixture. Beat whites of eggs till stiff and dry and fold into the batter. Bake in a sheet in a slow oven or in tiny round cakes. Cover with yellow icing. Make the legs of the folks of the eggs.

Yellow Icing
Yolk 1 egg, 4 cups powdered sugar, 8 tablespoons softened butter, 2 teaspoons vanilla.

Beat yolks slightly. Sift in sugar and add butter alternately. Beat well and beat in vanilla. This frosting is quite soft when first made but hardens as it stands. Put the cakes in a cool place and let stand several hours before serving.

These rules should serve twelve persons.

POLICE OFFICER TELLS INTERESTING STORY

Made Three Trips to Hot Springs But Still Was Unsuccessful in Quest. Finally Returned Home and After All He Failed He Found Nerv-Worth Gave Relief from His Trouble.

"I can now go on duty feeling like a new man," said Clyde E. Vitte of Morgantown, W. Va., police force. "One bottle of Nerv-Worth did me more good than three trips to Hot Springs. I had been bothered with stomach trouble for about eight years. My food didn't digest properly and I was constantly bothered with gas forming on my stomach. I took treatment at Jacksonville, Fla., and at Hot Springs, but got only slight relief. I was forced to lay off on account of my condition. I couldn't sleep nights, my stomach pained me constantly and nothing that I ate would agree with me. I took several different preparations but got no relief, so finally I tried Nerv-Worth and the first bottle did me more good than the three trips to Hot Springs. My stomach no longer bothers me and I sleep like a log. I can and do recommend Nerv-Worth highly and hope that it helps others as it has helped me."

Thousands of cases like this have found that Nerv-Worth gave the desired results and gave them quickly. Its action in stomach and nervous affections is really remarkable. For years it has been doing the work wherever sold and thousands of satisfied users from all parts of the country have vouched to its merit. Many have tentatively termed it "The Miracle Medicine," and the results it gives in many cases is quite often miraculous. It acts in a sensible way, eliminates the troubles and gives pleasing and lasting relief. It neutralizes poisonous gas-forming acids in the stomach. It drives out impurities, makes for proper assimilation, thus aiding nutrition. It whets the appetite and tones the whole digestive system. At the same time it has a tonic action. It gives nerve force, aids in overcoming nervous ills, tones and invigorates the whole system. It contains no narcotics, coal tar products or nauseating oils.

Nerv-Worth is now $1.00 per bottle. Sold on a money-back guarantee by Hunters and all leading druggists everywhere.

Nerv-Worth is sold and recommended by Hunter's Drug Store, Lima; C. M. Young, Van Wert; Casson's Drug Store, Lima; Drug Store, Kenton; Powell's Pharmacy, Bellefontaine; Munsell's, Defiance—Adv.

The annual executive luncheon of the Woman's Missionary society of Lima Presbytery has become an event that is looked forward to with much interest, not only by the members of the local societies of the Market-st. and Olivet Presbyterian churches, but also by the entire 27 other churches located in this part of Ohio.

Thursday noon, 78 members sat at the beautifully appointed tables at the Market-st. church. A delicious luncheon was served by the Young Ladies' Aid under the direction of the chairman, Mrs. Homer Hughes. Baskets of autumn flowers formed the timely decorations.

Short table talks were given first by the president, Mrs. B. E. Hughes, of Bluffton; then Miss Ida Panabaker told of the Young People's Conference at Wooster. Miss Eunice Trumbo gave a most entertaining talk of a Midsummer Christmas Tree, which was enjoyed by the Columbus Grove society in August. Instead of sugar plums, there were all sorts of nice gifts that had been made to send to one of the Presbyterian hospitals in China. The speaker told how the Christmas days in summer may be made comfortable by preparing gifts for far away children.

At the conclusion of the luncheon all adjourned to the auditorium. The regular business of the district was given attention with Mrs. Hughes presiding. Mrs. Ralph Kohr, of Columbus Grove, led the devotionals after which Mrs. William Wilson, of Olivet church gave a vivid picture of the great General Assembly meeting of the Presbyterian churches at Winona Lake, speaking of Congresswoman Miss Alice Robertson.

Mrs. Samuel Huecker followed with a delightful vein of reminiscences of the assembly and spoke of how an old lady boy, Dr. Fred Eastman, now a member of the New York Board of the Presbyterian church had been "putting Lima on the map," as one known to have written "Unfinished Business," a most fascinating book on Home Missions.

The president gave a message from the board, telling of one new place to invest money. The Great

YOUR FACE

BY MME. MOREAU

PARIS—Making faces! Really it's done in the best of society, and the more it's done, the better. Only, of course, it must be the nice kind of faces.

Your face isn't just the kind of a face you want, try making it over, just as you would last-winter's dress! Take off all the summer blemishes, then with a little cream and lots of patience go to work!

Seat yourself before your mirror. Smile at yourself, but gently in the way the lines should go and eventually you'll have the kind of an expression you want.

If the summer blemishes, freckles and the like, are bothering you much, there are numerous simple ways of doing away with them! Freckles may be battled with a mixture made of two ounces of lemon juice, one dram of confectioners' sugar or powdered rock candy and one-half dram of powdered borax. Let stand for four or five days, shaking occasionally and then apply, three times a day with a camel's hair brush.

Never, never put anything on your face which contains any mineral drugs, such as salts of lead, mercury or bismuth. They'll eventually make your skin as yellow as an old parchment.

And you shouldn't use an acid on the skin much, because it contracts the pores, thus weakening them and causing sagging or wrinkles! The Bugbear! For instance, lemon juice, or lemon juice preparations—don't ever use them for more than a week in succession. Give the skin a rest then even if the desired effect hasn't been entirely gained. In another week finish the work which you started with the acid.

Members of the Carnation club met with Mrs. Walter Kundert at her home on S. Metcalf-st, Thursday afternoon. In a clever contest, Mrs. Maude Crumrine and Mrs. E. L. Benner were successful and at the conclusion of the enjoyable afternoon a dainty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Mary Kundert.

Members present included Mrs. L. R. McWhorter, Mrs. A. D. Humes, Mrs. P. A. Sauter, Mrs. Maude Crumrine, Mrs. Frank Gladden, Mrs. E. L. Benner and the hostess. Guests were Mrs. C. R. Hartzer, Mrs. Edward Wagner and Miss Mary Kundert.

A group of friends of Master Charles Behrens gathered at his home Wednesday evening in celebration of his 10th birthday anniversary. Games and music formed the evening's entertainment and at a late hour a dainty lunch was served by the host's mother.

Those present included Ruth Johnson, Wilma Bruskotter, Rexine Dye, Mary Jane Goeke, Leland Derbyshire, Robert Johnson, Douglas Dye, Bernard Shank, Raymond Snook, Clara Dumber, James Bruskotter, Ronald Cook and Charles Behrens.

Members of the Add-a-Slitch club and their husbands enjoyed a very pleasant garden party at the B. A. Giammi residence on S. Cole-st, Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shnyder as host and hostess. The evening was enjoyed socially and a dainty repast was served.

Next regular meeting will be held with Mrs. Robert Neuman, of W. Spring-st.

Officers of the Woman's Music club will distribute the year books to the members of the club at Harmon's store, corner Elizabeth and Market-sts, Saturday afternoon and evening.

Miss Mildred Patton, of E. Pearl-st accompanied by Miss Margaret Schramb, of Ridgeport, O., will leave Saturday noon for Ypsilanti, Mich., where she will enter the Normal School.

GIRL SHOULD BE WARNED

In Love With Man of Questionable Character

Friend is Advised to Import Information to Mother of Girl

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a heart-broken girl and I am writing you to see if you can help me or tell me what you think is best for me to do. Several occasions I have come into contact with a business man of great renown. He was always so kind to me and now that I think of it and bring it all back to my mind, I think he really cared for me. He was always so courteous. Now I realize how much I care for him. I feel terrible because he has never called me or in any way continued to show his interest in me. What would you advise me to do? I am a girl 17 years old.

SEIZANNE
Really, my dear, I am not certain what my advice to you in this heart-rending affair should be. Perhaps you are right in saying the girl should be warned, but if you will be prudent you will not tell her of this man's character yourself. Often our good intentions are misunderstood. No doubt, if you were to tell her of this man's questionable character she would resent your interference and feel you were meddling.

Perhaps the best step for you to take would be to go to her mother and tell her of this man's character. Make her understand that you are only fulfilling your duty and trying to save her daughter from unhappiness, which might result from a friendship with this man. The girl's mother could doubtless have more influence upon her than anyone else. You can readily see that if any outsider should warn the girl, her interest in the man would simply increase. It seems that is simply human nature.

I could tell you better what you need. You certainly do flatter yourself. Surely you don't think a "business man of great renown" is going to show any great interest in a foolish little girl of 17? You simply mistook professional courtesy and kindness for interest in you. Since you have only casually known this man and have only come in contact with him in a business way, you have little basis for your regard. Forget about him. You have other friends; turn your attention to them.

LETTERS TO LOVERS

TO AN ANXIOUS MAN

BY WINONA WILCOX

By WINONA WILCOX
"At what age does a girl make the nicest bride?" asks one who signs himself ANXIOUS LOVER.

"Only the Sphinx can reply to that," thought I—and then I remembered that letters from young women often contain hints which would seize the attention of any suitor in doubt. I turned over a pile of delicately penned pages of note paper.

"Does he love me?" So ends, invariably, the note from the very young girl. Doubt seems to be natural to a girl in her first love affair. Perhaps it is her safeguard. Perhaps it is a fortunate deterrent of early marriage.

"I care a great deal for him," TWENTY admits that—and no more. TWENTY is the passive recipient of man's adoration. His devotion he owes to her charms. She expects to be loved—and considers it a privilege to permit any man to love her. Cautious TWENTY is alive to her own value.

"I idolize him," TWENTY-FOUR is positive about the intensity of her feelings. If she quarrels with him, she always knows she is to blame, and she takes the initiative in making up. She is in the mental state of the Indian widow who immolates herself upon her husband's funeral pyre. The maternal instinct dominates her. She ardently desires to darn her lover's socks.

But "TWENTY-SEVEN" no longer flatters a lover. "The man seems to be very fond of me—but how do I know he will be loyal?" she inquires. Evidently she has returned one or more diamond rings. While skeptical, she still is anxious not to miss matrimony as woman's normal experience. Common sense rules her—and she is proud of it.

From AMBITIOUS comes this: "The girl to whom I am engaged has just informed me that she doesn't intend to marry me unless I give up my ambition to become a professional man. Her people are all in the commercial world, and she wants me to stick to it. I'd like to know if I'm justified in resenting her verdict."

Your resentment is your cue to conduct. It prompts you to trust yourself, to work out your own career.

Love often passes, but man's one ambition seldom does.

A man can quite honestly love several girls in succession—so most men claim, but to the guiding star of his personal ambition, he remains constant.

Hereditarily explains it. Hereditarily is speaking when a man feels that he has it in him to be an artist rather than an auctioneer, or a lawyer rather than a manufacturer. Erotic emotions are subject to change. Inherited tendencies to work are hard to overcome.

Chimneys lean toward the east, due to drying of their moisture by the morning sun.

ST. MARYS TEAM PREPARES FOR BIG BATTLE HERE SUNDAY IN DOUBLE BILL WITH LOCALS

THE St. Marys Independent baseball team is coming to Lima Sunday, prepared to give the Lima team one of its hardest fights of the season.

They have enlisted the services of several professional players from minor leagues, and feel certain that in both games of the double header they will come out victorious.

To enable Lima to stay in the four-team race for the championship of northwestern Ohio, they must win both games Sunday as the visitors already have two games on the locals.

Three weeks ago this same team played Lima a 16-inning scoreless tie at St. Marys, in one of the most spectacular ball games ever witnessed in this section of the state.

The visitors have signed Neidkorn, Memphis Southern League catcher, to work behind the bat. Noel, first string pitcher for the Saints and who will likely pitch the first game of the double bill, has a record of 16 games won out of 18 played this season.

Noel has not been scored on the last 43 innings he has pitched, having 25 scoreless innings against Lima, nine frames against the Dayton Marcos, and a shut out against the Hamilton Greys.

Earl Berry, Eli Mains, Fritz Jones, and Alexander will make up the pitching staff of the home team in the deciding games with the Saints Sunday. Berry and Mains, both Lima boys, will be given the call for mound duty with Alexander and Jones in reserve.

All players on the Lima team have been ordered by Manager Halloran to report Saturday, so as to be in the best shape for the grind Sunday. Harry Clark, captain of the Lima club and third sacker, will put the men thru a signal practice Saturday afternoon.

With advance indications pointing to another of those exciting games, it is estimated that a crowd of 2,000 St. Marys and Lima fans will gather to see the deciding games of the series between the two hostile aggregations. Extra seats have been erected at the Murphy-st park to accommodate the crowds.

The first game will start promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

Loco Team And Duros To Mix It

The Duro Pump Works baseball team, Dayton, recognized as one of the best semi-pro clubs in Ohio, will play the Lima Locomotive Works team at the Murphy-st ball park Saturday afternoon.

Itain spoiled the game last Saturday, and the team was booked to come again this week. The game will start at 2:30.

Wizwam, a full blooded Indian known more familiarly as Chief Hina, will play right field. Fans who know him say he is one of the hardest hitters in this section, and has the bent down pat.

JOHOSKE AT THIRD. Manager McClain, of the Locos, has secured Johoske to play at third in the place of Bible. Coon and Boop will pitch, with McNamara working behind the bat.

Jensen, who has caught here recently for the Independents, will be behind the bat for the Duros.

The line-up for both teams follows:

LIMA LOCO	Pos.	DURO
McNamara	C.	Rusen or Sacs
Schroeder	1b.	Seward or Fry
Wood	2b.	Horne
Johoske	3b.	Furnace
Foust	ss.	Farley
Lisk	rf.	Wizwam
Murphy	cf.	Rike
Malloy	lf.	Becker or Kubby
McNamara, Coon, Boop	p.	Jones or Tracy

Yanks-Indians To Battle For League Honors

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL.) (United Press Staff Correspondent.) NEW YORK—Any other town but this big blasé burg, would close shop for an event like today's.

Even the world series, baseball's biggest classic, hasn't much more to promise than the four-game series starting this afternoon between the New York Yankees and the Cleveland Indians.

SIDES AT STAKE. The pennant and the big cut of the series change is at stake. Both clubs have been pointing for it for two weeks. The bugs have been waiting for it longer.

This Speaker and his Indians were in town this morning, confident but as usual saying nothing.

"This is a tough series. All I can say is that we'll be out there trying," the gray-thatched leader of the champions said.

"WE'RE READY." Miller Huggins, the sawed-off pilot of the Yanks dismissed all attempts at comment with a polite "we're ready."

Stanley Coveleskie, the Shamokin miner and spitballer de luxe, probably will be selected by Speaker to go after the first and fourth games. The stocky Pole has won only one of five starts against Huggins' men.

MAYS TO PITCH. Carl Mays, the portly underhand tosser, will probably go against the Indians. Flipping on the previous series between the two contenders, the Yanks ought to win the series as they have taken 11 out of 15 games this season from the Indians.

An even split in the series will mean very little difference in the present standing of the clubs with the Indians three points behind the leading Yanks.

Three out of four will give one an advantage and a clean sweep of the series, in all probability, will decide the pennant winner.

The game is to start at 3:30 o'clock daylight time.

Three victories for the Indians in the four games would make the standing of Cleveland .633, New York .621. If the Yanks are able to take three out of four they will have a percentage of .635 and Cleveland .620. An even break would leave New York with .625 and Cleveland with .627.

DELAWARE?—Coach Gauthier is drilling his Ohio Wesleyan team behind closed gates in preparation for the opening contest with Ohio State University at Columbus, October 1. The team is reported in good shape and is hard at work with signal practice and scrimmage every day.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS. The stockholders of The Automobile Protective Co. of Lima, Ohio, will take notice that on the 21st day of September 1927, there will be a meeting at their office 219 Indiana Block, Lima, Ohio, for the purpose of surrendering their charter, and such other necessary business as may come before the meeting.

GEORGES SEEMS TO LIKE GETTING HIT BY YANKEE BOXERS

"Before that I have a fight in London, December 2, probably with Cook." Georges displayed a thumb still swollen from the break received in his bout with Dempsey, July 2.

Pete Herman Is To Defend Title In Bout Tonight

NEW YORK — Pete Herman of New Orleans, world's bantam weight champion boxer, defends his title tonight in a fifteen round bout to a decision with Johnny Buff, American flyweight champion. Herman announced today that he was at the required weight, 115 pounds, while Buff has built himself up to 116.

Last December the New Orleans boy lost his title on a decision to Joe Lynch of New York in a fifteen round bout here. He regained the title recently by a decision over Lynch in a 15 round contest in Brooklyn.

IN THE PRELIMS. Three eight round bouts will precede the main contest. Earl Baird, a lightweight product of the army, will be pitted against Battling Reddy, of New York. Johnny Murray and Redcap Wilson will meet in another contest and Carl Tremaine of Cleveland will meet Irish Johnny Curtin.

The bouts will be held in the same ring in which Dempsey defeated Carpentier at Jersey City. It was transported to Madison Square Garden several days ago.

Quarterback At Marietta Hurt

MARIETTA — Fred W. Wethel, quarterback on the Marietta College football team, sprained his ankle during practice yesterday and will not be able to play in the opening game here Saturday against Marshall College. Coach Shively was unable to say who will fill his place. Johnnie Cox, former Marietta center, has returned to school after being absent two years and is out for the team.

good pitching by Davis and Bayne. It took Cleveland 12 innings to beat Boston in a game in which six pitchers were used, three by each club. Morton was credited with the victory, his second in two days.

LOVE RECIPE CERTAIN TO START A CONTROVERSY

(By ESTHER WAGNER)
 NOW don't let this start a controversy. Women are especially warned not to read what follows. It's almost sure to make a lady mad. Now that that's settled and you understand perfectly, let's go on with the story.
 Rudolph Valentino, out of the romantic wisdom of his 26 years, and a hectic career as a hero in the movies, rises courageously to remark that women like to be dominated.
 "Make 'em like it," says Rudolph. "I'm a masterful. Be a cave-man—physically or intellectually, depending on circumstances."
 "A woman likes a man who dominates her," Rudolph declares. "I don't care whether she's a suffragist or a so-called new woman. She likes domination—perhaps secretly, but she likes it just the same."
 Rudolph is rather handsome. But he doesn't depend on beauty alone to win them.
 "Study the type," he advises. "Some women like brute strength. Others like intellectual strength. But sometimes you have to combine both brain and brawn in your mastery of women."
 Take his system in "The Sheik," the new picture in which he has the title role.
 When the English girl, played by Agnes Ayres, fell into the hands of the Sheik on the Arabian desert she was a cold, indifferent tom-boy. She needed someone to arouse her.
 Then she met the Sheik—and he was brutal. He beat her mentally. He lashed her with intellectual cruelty. He dominated her.
 And she just couldn't resist him. He had the recipe. She just naturally melted into his arms. (And, of course, it was perfectly nice to discover later that he wasn't an Arab at all, but a European in disguise.)
 What? You don't agree with Rudolph's cave-man love recipe? You're not obliged to. Anyway you were warned not to read this.

Rudolph Valentino has a love recipe that he puts to a test in "The Sheik." It worked beautifully, masterfully reducing the proud beauty (Agnes Ayres) to submission—as shown here.

"The Famous De Mille Beauty Chorus In 'Anatol'"
 ELL B. DeMille's wonder picture, "The Affairs of Anatol," suggested by the Arthur Hays Sulzberger classic, opens a week's entertainment at the Faurot on Sunday.
 Amid scenes of utter gorgeousness and beauty, the remarkable story of "The Affairs of Anatol" is presented. There's Wallace Reid as the good-looking, pleasure-loving Parisian who can't resist a

"The Old Nest" Is a Story of Home
 THE simple, old-fashioned home of a typical American home, is the background upon which Reginald Barker, Goldwyn producer, has built his picture "The Old Nest" by Rupert Hughes.
 The most sacred and beautiful of themes—the love of a mother for her children—is the basis of the picture. Critics in metropolitan cities have proclaimed it to be a most beautiful and pathetic story ever brought to the screen. It is the work of Mary Alden, in the

"Black Roses" Is a Crook Story
 If you like your movie fare of the blood and thunder kind and don't mind a lot of melodramatic and gothic stuff, you can go to see "Black Roses" with a perfect assurance that your wildest dream will be realized.
 Sessue Hayakawa is the featured actor and his little wife, Tsuru Aoki, the leading role, is quite pleasing. The story concerns a Japanese Gardener, who, it seems, can grow black roses. He is the victim of a frame-up and is accused of the murder of an employer. The real culprits, of course, make their getaway, taking him to the wife, Blossom.
 Well, the gardener serves a term on the river and on his release he sets out to rescue his wife, and the last reel shows him bringing Blossom and maintaining innocence of the crime of which was so unjustly accused.
 The work of Sessue and Tsuru is really called "Shesoo" and "Tsuru" is all that makes the picture worth seeing, for the story is fettered and utterly impossible. Never these gifted Japanese stars capable of doing splendid work. What kind of material the picture is to be, which is nothing to be thankful for. There's a funny Snub Pollard on program and a reel or so of International News happenings.

$100 PER FRECKLE
 Wesley Barry, who is going to star in Marshall Neilan's "Penrod" has been trying to find out what his famous freckles are worth per freckle. The manager of a theater in Jamesport, Mo., helped him out. After running "Dinky," the manager counted the box office receipts and then he counted Wesley's freckles. Dividing the number of freckles into the total receipts he arrived at the statistical conclusion that the freckles were worth just a fraction of a cent more than $100 apiece.

MANAKUS ROYAL HAWAIIANS

There is something about Hawaiian music which seems to reach out and grasp one's innermost soul. One almost detects the fragrance of flowers as one listens to the dreamy melodies. Imagination reaches glorious heights, one is transported far out and away from the prosaic workaday realm to the beautiful balmy shores of Waikiki, with the enchanting strains of the sweet Hawaiian music sounding on the still night air, the strumming of ukuleles, the native dancers, the quiet moonlit beach—all combining into a beautiful enchanting dream.

SHORT SHAVINGS

A couple of negroes were digging a hole in hard ground under a sidewalk. One, down in the hole, held a small iron pipe up, right, upon the end of which the other pounded with a large sledge in order to loosen the dirt.

The sledge wielder swung the heavy tool rather recklessly, and it looked as tho he might miss at any moment and strike his companion's head, just below. A passing white man cautioned: "Better be more careful, Tom, or you'll bring that sledge down on Andy's head."

"All right, boss," replied the sledge swinger, seriously. "Ah'll be more careful; dis an de only sledge we got."

An old colored mammy came in for her monthly allowance. As she could not write, she made her mark. Previously she had always made an X, but on this occasion she made a circle.

"Why, Linda," said the man in charge, "why don't you make an X as usual?"

And Linda replied earnestly:

"Why, I done went and got married yesterday and changed my name."

Ensl Asher, Julius Emmett Jackson and James L. Heffer, started out, mushroom hunting Wednesday afternoon. They were cruising along St. Johns road merrily in Asher's car, when he spied a white disk shaped object in the wood by the side of the road.

"There's a daisy!" exclaimed Asher. "It's almost perfect."

And snatching a lion to the word he stopped the car and leaped over a bark wire fence, with the agility of a high jumper.

"Oh—" was his only comment as he pulled up a white door knob.

Bishop Bratton, at a dinner in Jackson, Michigan, was genially patronized by a millionaire.

"I never go to church," the millionaire said. "I guess you've noticed that, bishop."

"Yes, I have," noticed B. said

Bishop Bratton, gravely. "I guess you wonder why I never go to church, don't you?" the millionaire pursued. "Well, I'll tell you what, bishop. There are so many hypocrites there."

"Oh, don't let that keep you away," said Bishop Bratton, smiling. "There is always room for one more."
